

Supreme Court Ruling On Hauptmann Verdict To Be Given Dec. 23

U. S. Tribunal Receives 32-Page Petition, Filed by Rosecrans, Which Asks for New Trial After "Circus" Conviction.

VIOLATION OF RIGHTS

Rosecrans To Serve Brief on State of New Jersey Requesting Permission to Present Testimony.

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann appealed to the supreme court today to save him from the electric chair for the murder and kidnaping of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

A 32-page petition filed by Egbert Rosecrans, counsel for Hauptmann, asked a new trial on the ground that the stolid German carpenter had been convicted after a trial which resembled a "circus."

The petition also contended Hauptmann's constitutional rights had been violated in the sensational-packed trial at Flemington, New Jersey.

Supreme court attaches said the nine justices probably would announce on December 23 whether they would review his conviction. That would give Hauptmann either glad tidings or mournful news for a Christmas present.

Rosecrans' Petition.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 12 (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann asked the supreme court of the United States today for a new trial on the ground that he had been convicted of the Lindbergh baby's murder in a "circus maximus."

The man who nine months ago tomorrow was sentenced to die for the kidnap-killing, reiterated in his appeal charges that his constitutional rights had been violated in the trial at Flemington.

He alleged that the jury was "unduly influenced" by the daily presence of Colonel Lindbergh at the trial, by the "inflammatory" summation of state counsel, and by the "hysterical mob spirit."

The point had been raised in an unsuccessful appeal to New Jersey's highest tribunal, the court of errors and appeals.

Egbert Rosecrans, only member of the defense staff qualified to appear before the court, requested permission to take additional testimony to support his contention Hauptmann was denied an impartial trial.

Should the court refuse to review the case, Hauptmann would die in the electric chair early next year unless the New Jersey court of pardons commuted his sentence to life imprisonment.

Charges of Appeal.

Hauptmann's appeal charged: "The 'impartial and objective' summation of Attorney General David T. Wilentz violated the common law and constitutional right of Hauptmann to a fair and impartial trial."

The attorney general "bullied" and argued with Hauptmann on cross-examination. The attorney general's summation injected into the case a "material variance" of the death theory.

The charge of Justice Thomas W. Trenchard to the jury was "argumentative and not dispassionate."

The jury was not properly sequestered and was subject to coercion.

The defense, seeking to show Wilentz's summation was irregular, cited many excerpts from it, among them that Hauptmann was "Public Enemy No. 1 of this world," and that "this fellow has been the inspiration for the greatest series of the meanest crimes in the history of the world."

The defense said the state tried the case on the theory the child died in a fall from the kidnap ladder, but that Wilentz, in his summation, charged the child was killed in his crib by a blow from a chisel.

Briton Forecasts High Wave of U. S. Prosperity

New Orleans, Nov. 12 (AP)—Major L. B. Angus, British boom forecaster, predicted today the coming of an American "tidal wave of recovery and prosperity."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association, Major Angus declared:

"Confidence already has returned to this country; fear has declined; monetary velocity will increase. The result will be an immediate boom—first, in consumer goods; second, in plant and machinery; third, in the housing industry."

"America, in fact, has at last turned the corner, and even fears of elections and foreign wars are unlikely to check the tidal wave of recovery and prosperity."

Over $24,000 More Of WPA Funds for Ulster County Projects

The upstate New York WPA approved today projects calling for expenditures of $1,598,456.31. This brings the total for the upstate area to $38,975,353.62.

State Administrator Herzog said that district directors had been asked to get work under way "as soon as the feasible projects are selected and men and materials made available."

Included in the approved projects are the following Ulster county additions:

Kingston—Reconstruction of streets including paving, and sewers, $16,321.60; improvements to West Union street and building foundation, $7,202.63; provide extra clerical workers in Ulster county purchasing agent's office, $400.00.

November Direct Relief.

Meanwhile direct relief allotment for New York state will continue through November at least, according to the following Washington dispatch:

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—A direct allotment for direct relief in New York state in November was promised today after a conference between Governor Herbert H. Lehman and President Roosevelt.

The governor, interrupting a vacation at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., conferred with the President for two hours yesterday.

"At this time I have no statement of any kind to make," Mr. Lehman said as he left the White House, "except that there will be an allotment for direct relief in November."

New York state is scheduled to go off federal government's direct relief list December 1. The announcement of the November allotment originally was made last week after Governor Lehman conferred with Harry Hopkins, relief and works progress administrator.

The state now is spending between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 for direct relief each month and this sum was sought for November.

Daniel Murphy, 30, of 53 Meadow street, is in a hospital at Rome, N. Y., suffering from injuries received on the tug James Egan. The information, without further details, was received in a teletype message sent to the Kingston Police Department, which was asked to communicate with his relatives.

Rockefeller Spending.

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Rockefeller foundation, chartered in 1912 to promote the well being of mankind throughout the world, expended $12,678,772 during 1934, according to the annual report today. Largest of the philanthropies of John D. Rockefeller, the foundation has a capital of almost $200,000,000 of which the interest is to be used for the advancement of knowledge. The foundation allotted almost one half of its expenditures in four fields: Public health activities received $2,200,000; medical sciences, $1,024,200; natural sciences, $1,001,210; and social sciences, $1,453,362.

Italo-Ethiopian Troops Massing For Big Battle Along Northern Front

Combat Likely to be Waged Last of Week Unless Unseasonable Rains Delay Action of Both Sides.

IL DUCE DECREES

Mussolini Says 197 Products Will be Banned From Importation to Italy After Monday.

Addis Ababa, Nov. 12 (AP)—A reliable source asserted today the first big battle of the undeclared Italo-Ethiopian war should take place on the northern front by the end of this week unless delayed by unseasonable rains.

This authority said the combat would be waged between the main Italian and Ethiopian armies in the north amid the mountains of Ethiopia's lower Tigre province.

Unexpected rains were falling both in Tigre province and in Ogaden province on the southern front, telegrams to the capital disclosed, but storms are so unusual in the north during this season that it was believed they were little more than showers.

Confidantes of Emperor Haile Selassie said the northern commanders were seeking to join their troops with the better-trained, better-equipped forces from Addis Ababa.

The difficult terrain forced the emperor's armies to travel slowly toward the north. Although they started five weeks ago, when general mobilization was proclaimed, authorities estimated they still were separated by at least five days from the Tigrean army.

The strategic importance of Italian capture of Makale was decried by the emperor's confidantes.

Reports reaching the capital said only a small force of Italians had reached the Makale region, and that the Ethiopians were not yet dislodged from the mountain peaks.

When the main armies clash, Haile Selassie's associate said, Ethiopian losses were likely to be appalling "because we are afraid we cannot keep our northern fighters from throwing themselves with fanatical zeal upon the Italians."

On the southern front, to which the emperor ordered 40,000 troops dispatched for the defense of Jijiga, Ethiopians believed the principal aim of the Italians was to prevent the flow of arms and ammunition, arriving steadily through Jijiga from Berbera, British Somaliland.

Ethiopian reports said the Italians have bombed the Berbera-Jijiga roads for several days without tangible results.

Italians Moved.

Asmara, Eritrea, Nov. 12 (AP)—Thousands of fresh troops moved up today to bolster Italy's northern front in Ethiopia.

The Silva division marched beyond Edaga Hamus, about 15 miles southeast of Adigrat, on the route to Makale.

Two thousand camels also moved toward Makale to reinforce the fleet of trucks, bringing up munitions and supplies.

The mass movement of troops complicated the problem of Italian engineers, seeking to construct satisfactory roads.

Every new man going forward meant several pounds more of food supplies and water to be carried daily.

The troops themselves passed safely over the new roads, but under heavy rains, the great trucks were reducing construction work to mud and puddles.

When the rainy season sets in again next year, it was evident the problem of maintaining roads—difficult even during the present unseasonable rains—will be increased tremendously.

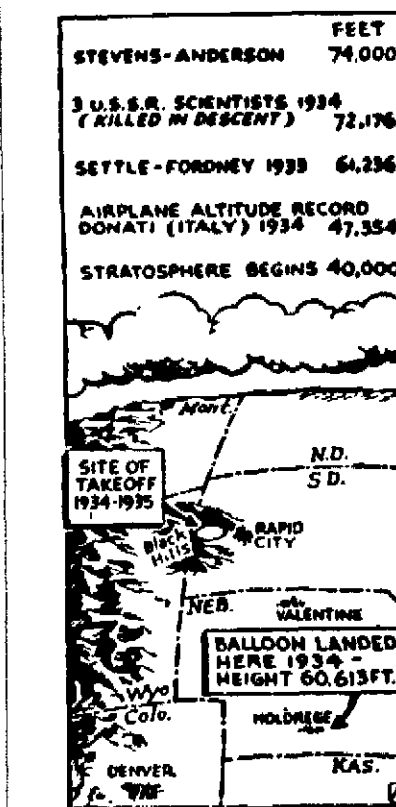

Unless new roads are built with solid foundations, it would seem, major bodies of the Italian troops must be withdrawn.

Third U. S. Stratosphere Hop Hailed Scientific Success

SET NEW STRATO RECORD

Capt. Albert W. Stevens (top), and Capt. Orvil A. Anderson (below) are shown here with a map of their record flight of approximately 14 miles into the stratosphere in the "Explorer II." After many weeks of waiting and the misfortune of having their huge balloon rip open on a recent attempt, the daring army aviators were able to surpass the highest previous ascent by man, a record set by three Russian balloonists who were killed as they descended. The American stratosphere record had been set by the Settle-Fordney expedition in 1933. (Associated Press Photos)

Captain Anderson Tells Highlights of Balloon Ascent in West Monday

Says at 73,000 Feet the Earth Lost Much Detail and Horizon Was Indistinct Blur, Sky Was a Dark Blue.

LANDING PERFECT

Scientists Await Check of Instruments, Hoping for New Knowledge of Cosmic Ray.

By CAPT ORVIL A. ANDERSON, Pilot of the Stratosphere Balloon, Explorer II.

(Written for The Associated Press)

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

Kimball, S. D., Nov. 12.—The third stratosphere balloon flight sponsored by the United States Army and the National Geographic Society, as far as Captain Albert W. Stevens and I were able to tell, was a success in every way.

The flight itself was fine, but the waiting for satisfactory weather was hell.

We went up to 73,000 feet and could have gone 5,000 feet higher in safety. We experienced no discomfort although temperatures outside were as low as 75 degrees below zero. Inside the gondola temperatures went no lower than 23 degrees above zero.

From a study of maps we were convinced Sunday that satisfactory conditions prevailed after six weeks of waiting. We gave the order to start inflating about 1 p. m. Sunday.

We started actually putting in gas but were subjected to delay as a result of a fabric flaw and we had to do a field repair job. We were not able to get off until about 7 a. m., putting two hours off our flight. This made it mandatory that we eliminate the intermediate stop at 52,000 feet, and that we go instead straight to the top, which we did.

Clearer Bowl by 50 Feet.

We cleared the rim of the bowl by about 50 feet. We had to take off in the direction of the highest cliffs. We left about 800 pounds light, this being necessary because we had a northwest wind running at the take-off and the balloon had to be shot into the air pretty fast.

About 50 feet over the rim, a stiff down draft struck the balloon, making it necessary to discharge 750 pounds of ballast rapidly in order to avoid being thrown down against the cliff.

This was the toughest spot of our flight. After reaching an altitude of about 15,000 feet, I slowed our rate of ascent so that Capt. Stevens could rig the instruments which trailed underneath the gondola ropes. After we had both returned to the gondola, we sealed the ports and started up again.

Started Instruments.

We then started what instruments were not already in operation, including our air purifier. Capt. Stevens kept an eye on all the instruments, while I watched navigation, trying to maintain an ascent of 400 feet a minute. As the balloon approached the height at which the box was fully expanded I slowed the climb to 200 feet a minute in order to avoid strain.

We reached 73,000 feet four hours after our take-off. As this was the approximate height desired I stopped the balloon and maintained that altitude for an hour and 40 minutes, starting down at 12:30 p. m.

At the peak of our flight we were hovering over the Niobrara River in northern Nebraska.

I attempted to pick out stars in the heavens, but was unable to see any. The moon was not out yet. The sky was a dark blue, tinged with purple.

Earth Lost Detail.

Beneath us, nearly 14 miles away, the earth lost much of its detail and the horizon was an indistinct blur. Railroads and highways were scarcely visible. Only rivers, towns and small checker-boarded fields could be seen.

The instruments were all working perfectly. The balloon functioned properly, and everything went on as planned.

Valuing instruments and to begin our descent we slipped down through the stratosphere to 25,000 feet before we began to toss our ballast.

From 25,000 feet to the ground we lost about 200 pounds of ballast. The balloon was dropped with precision at 11,000 feet, we landed on a grassy landing area, about half a mile from the point of take-off.

Little Girl Is Dead; Swallowed Pills Left For Use of Her Mother

Lois, young daughter of Policeman and Mrs. Ernest A. Ross of West Pierpont street, was playing about the house this morning when she spied some round objects in one of the rooms. She picked one up and found that it was chocolate coated and swallowed it. Evidently it tasted good for she swallowed a considerable number of them before suddenly being stricken ill. She was rushed to the Kingston Hospital but died shortly after being admitted, and before Dr. George W. Ross, the family physician, who had been summoned, could arrive at the hospital.

Dr. Ross said later that he had been attending Mrs. Ross and on his last call at the house on Saturday had left her a supply of iron tonic pills. These pills are chocolate coated. Dr. Ross said that it was evidently that the little girl had swallowed a considerable number of the pills.

Lois was two years old last June.

Fishermen's Tale

Moscow, Nov. 12 (AP)—Thousands of fishermen returning from the sea today told an astonishing story of having been marooned on the bottom of the sea for five days, dispatches to this city stated. Equally astonishing was their report that at the bustling period of the fishing season the sea itself retired from under the fleet.

The sea receded along 150 miles of northern shore line of the Caspian sea, leaving the boats high and dry several kilometers from solid earth. Airplanes dropped food to the marooned men until the tide flowed back and allowed them to reload their ships.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—The position of the treasury on November 9 was: Receipts, $10,025,682.09; expenditures, $10,105,540.67; balance, $1,847,107.22. Customs receipts for the month, $1,305,064.77. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $1,241,007,429.67; expenditures, $2,271,008,121.42, including $1,261,242,888.50 of emergency expenditures. Gross income, $1,494,768,119.49. Gross debt, $2,564,379,714.19, a decrease of $2,432,064.77 under the previous day. Gold assets, $1,724,632,107.48.

Locked Controls Blamed

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Locked controls were blamed today by the war department for the crash of the big new attack bomber at Dayton, Ohio, on October 26. Findings were based upon testimony of eye-witnesses as well as the fact that the controls of the B-24 bomber plane were found locked after the fatal crash.

The B-24 bomber, No. 3, of the 9th Bombardment Group, was flying at 10,000 feet when it crashed at Dayton, Ohio, on October 26. The crash killed 16 men and injured 10.

The Five Christmas Clubs In

Kingston will pay its members approximately $210,000 this year. There are five banks in Kingston which have Christmas Clubs, the Rondout National Bank, the First National Bank, the Kingston Trust Company, the State of New York National Bank and the National Ulster County Bank.

Checks will be mailed out to the club members the latter part of this month and early in December. One bank stated it would mail out checks to its Christmas Club members the last week of this month.

Last year the five Christmas Clubs in the city paid to its members the sum of approximately $218,000, or $8,000 more than will be paid out this year.

There are about seven million Christmas Club members and approximately five thousand banking institutions and organizations and these clubs will pay out approximately $312,000,000 according to an estimate made yesterday by Herbert F. Rawlin, founder and president of Christmas Club, a corporation.

This money will be used by the members of the various Christmas Clubs for various purposes, including the payment of taxes, the purchase of Christmas gifts and for other purposes.

Top A. F. O. L. Measures

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Black-Connery thirty-hour week bill tops the American Federation of Labor's 1935 legislative program.

"We expect to make that our major objective," said William Green, federation president, in discussing with reporters today what the A. F. O. L. would ask of the next session of congress.

Second on the list is the Industrial Licensing bill to give congress power to establish minimum wages and maximum hours, as well as other labor standards, for industries sending their products into interstate commerce.

Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP)—Judge William V. Broderick set for trial December 15 the $100,000 allegation of affection's suit of Carol Paul MacArthur, Chicago movie actress, against Helen Hayes MacArthur, actress. Miss Frink, former wife of Charles MacArthur, a playwright, charged Miss Hayes with "infidelity and wanton alienation."

She was granted a divorce for desertion in May, 1932. The suit has been pending for several years.

Girl Admits Shooting German Business Man In Manhattan Hotel

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Dr. Fritz Gebhardt, 40, was shot to death in a skyscraper hotel early today, and police, rushing to cut off the slayer's escape, seized his asserted fiancée who, they said, admitted killing him.

Gebhardt was found sprawled lifeless in his room on the 21st floor of the Beekman Tower Hotel, clad only in a nightshirt.

Patrolman John Holden found Miss Vera Stretz, a striking blonde, seated on a fire escape step.

"Did you shoot that man up there?" he demanded.

"Yes, I did," Holden said she admitted calmly.

Detectives said they found a pistol in her purse. They questioned her for hours, but her only assertion, they said, was that she had become engaged to the doctor last December.

Gebhardt had registered at the hotel from Karlsruhe, Germany, four days ago. He used the title doctor, police learned, because he held a doctor's philosophy degree in political science.

Miss Stretz registered November 4, police said. She refused to give her age, which they estimated at 28.

Leslie Tate, assistant night manager of the hotel, told police he saw Miss Stretz sitting by the elevator door after the shooting. Dr. Gebhardt's door was open and while he went in to investigate the woman disappeared.

A radio alarm brought a squadron of police cars speeding to the scene, a fashionable mid-town neighborhood facing on the East River.

Patrolman Holden quoted Miss Stretz as saying after admitting the killing:

"I was on my way to the station house to give myself up."

The medical examiner said Gebhardt had been shot at least four times, the bullets striking him in the chest, left shoulder and left arm.

Four empty shells were found in the pistol. Miss Stretz carried, police said. In her purse was a box of cigarettes.

"Please don't ask me that," she begged when asked why she shot the doctor, "I'll talk only to my lawyer."

Letters in Gebhardt's room indicated that he was interested in the promotion of a shoe manufacturing machine and that he went to Germany last August, returning about a month ago.

ic independence from nations imposing sanctions

An official decree directed that 197 products, now imported under normal rules, may not enter the country after next Monday—the day League of Nations economic sanctions become effective—except under strict government supervision.

Publication of the new rules followed closely a formal protest to any participating nations against application of the league measures, boycotting Italian goods and putting an embargo on key products to Italy, in punishment for the fascist campaign in Ethiopia.

Il Duce's decree applied to a wide variety of products, ranging from dried fish, meat and other foods to films. It did not affect coal and other minerals, already governed by an import monopoly.

Italy's protest to League member states against invocation of sanctions was made in separate communications to the individual nations, rather than through the League.

A government spokesman said the action was made directly to the participating governments because Italy considered the League committee of 52 nations, organizing the sanctions drive, as a body outside the regular Geneva organization.

Italy has not received official notification of the application of sanctions, he said, but "we have experienced their effects."

(The arms embargo and financial sanctions, cutting of credit to Italy, already have been put into effect by many nations.)

Despite recent orders, there were indications that anti-foreign feeling again could become evident, with a little encouragement.

Il Duce ordered that the people work throughout the day and do their sleeping at night to save office light and heating.

Observers believed this might prove to be the most bitter discipline the Blackshirt patriots would have to face. All Italians have been accustomed to at least two hours of freedom for eating and slumbering during the mid-day heat.

Canary Circus at R. & G. Pet Shop

The canary circus, being presented at the Rose & Gorman pet shop, through courtesy of the Max Gelsler Bird Co., New York, is attracting attention of bird lovers. Many who have never wanted to own a caged pet before want one after they have seen these performers.

Between performances an expert examines sick and non-singing canaries of Kingston; every canary patient gets a free manicure.

These tame little pets (you could hold two in the palm of your hand) are fearless and seem to enjoy doing spectacular feats. You can't imagine a canary "Tight Rope Walker" until you just have to see one prance gracefully on a swinging rope.

And the "Daredevil Rider" can make you stop breathing for a moment. The ditty little fellow, the "Bird on the Flying Trapeze," tumbles all over himself trying to please his audience.

And can these canaries sing? A bird fancier in the audience counted 12 tunes when the incomparable "Living Music Box" canary sang at the command of his trainer.

Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Report

(Official Report)

At the annual meeting of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary the following officers were elected for the coming year. President, Mrs. Frederick Snyder; vice presidents, Mrs. Thomas J. Hickey and Mrs. George A. Ross, secretary, Mrs. Chester Van Gaasbeek, treasurer, Mrs. Harold Rakov.

Executive committee: Mrs. Charles Tappen, Mrs. F. B. Matthews, Mrs. D. N. Mathews, Mrs. Joseph Fowler, Mrs. L. A. McCambridge, Mrs. A. S. Staples, Mrs. C. J. Hezelman, Mrs. Howard Lewis, Mrs. George Durkin, Mrs. C. E. Wonderly, Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, Mrs. Stanley Matthews, Mrs. G. N. Wood, Mrs. John B. Kearney.

Following are the annual reports for September 1934 to September 1935:

The Auxiliary of Kingston Hospital held seven regular meetings during the year. After each meeting tea was served by Miss Allan and Miss Porter, assisted by the student nurses.

The sewing and cutting committee under the supervision of Mrs. Arthur Wicks has been very active and most faithful in keeping a generous supply of things ahead of the demand.

The good cheer committee in charge of Mrs. Daniel Shufelt has visited the wards and been generous with gifts and flowers for the patients.

A new committee was formed last September with Mrs. George A. Ross as chairman, to provide amusement and entertainment for the student nurses. During the year much has been done to make the students happy and contented along with their work. This has been greatly appreciated by the girls.

This year the Auxiliary raised funds in October and again this August through the soliciting of magazines by the Curtis Publishing Co. In November we held our Big Gypsy Ball which was a huge success.

As a result of this dance we turned over to the Board of Managers of our hospital $2,000.

We donated $5 at Thanksgiving time for flowers for the patients' trays.

At Christmas time a committee of ladies trimmed the wards and corridors of the hospital and nurses' home.

This concludes our year's activities and the Auxiliary wishes to thank each and every one who helped make it a success.

NAOMI V. VAN GAASBEEK, Secretary.

U. S. Navy Aids 54 Rock-Bound Mariners

Manila, P. I., Nov. 12 (AP)—A far-away typhoon reared its head today as the U. S. Navy sent another destroyer to the rescue of 54 persons marooned on a wave-lashed rock by the wrecking of the British freighter, Silverhazel.

Naval officers expected, however, to have the entire party rescued long before the typhoon, forming off the island of Yap, 1,200 miles due east of the wreck, reached the Philippines.

The destroyer Blumer, with special life-saving equipment, was due early tomorrow at the scene of the wreck, 250 miles from Manila by water at the southern tip of Luzon Island.

It will join the destroyer Peary, which attempted in vain all day yesterday to reach the castaways in small boats.

Five passengers, four of whom are women, were aboard the British vessel when it piled up last week-end while enroute here from San Francisco.

Those aboard the Silverhazel scrambled to temporary safety on rocks. It was not learned here whether those on the rocks included the passengers, but an unsigned message said "so far all is well."

The cause of the wreck, first reported Monday by the steamship New York, was not known here, although word of heavy weather which damaged one rescue vessel, the Japanese freighter Chicago Maru, was received today.

Lifeboats sent out by the rescue ships were tossed about by rip tides and heavy swells and forced back, it was indicated by messages received here earlier today.

It was also indicated part of the broken Silverhazel was wedged above the water. An agent said the ship cost $1,350,000 when it was built in 1927.

It is said that the favorite game of the hitch hikers is "Simple Simon says Thumbs Up."

If we rightly understand Senator Borah's political operations, he is still Borahing from within.

SALES OF LAFAYETTE CLIMB AS BUYERS COMPARE IT WITH OTHER LOW-PRICED CARS

Sales double and triple in cities and towns across America as X-Ray System lets buyers see with their own eyes that LaFayette is the ONLY car in the lowest-price field with ALL of the VITAL engineering features of the highest-priced cars!

OUT TO WIN AMERICA ON VALUE ALONE!

ANNOUNCED just a few short months before this story went to press, the remarkable new 1936 LaFayette is already a sensational success! And there's just one big reason for it.

Without regard to present profits, Nash is out to win a large share of the low-priced car business on value alone. And to do this quickly, we made LaFayette the first car... the ONLY car... in the lowest-price field with all of the vital engineering features of the highest-priced cars!

We didn't ask buyers to accept our claims that this was true. Instead, we developed the X-Ray System... so that you could SEE with your own eyes the surprising, hidden differences INSIDE all cars. So that you could see that LaFayette has the vital, long-life engineering features that manufacturers leave out of their LOW-priced cars, but always include in their HIGH-priced cars!

Perhaps you don't expect all of these vital features in a low-priced car? Perhaps you don't expect a car as big, as roomy, as safe as this new 1936 LaFayette? But perhaps you've been expecting TOO LITTLE all along! You car buyers are the real winners in this fight Nash is waging for dominance in the lowest-price field. So see the 1936 LaFayette—and the X-Ray System—at any Nash-LaFayette showroom before you put the same amount of money into any other car! The Nash Motors Company, Kenosha, Wisconsin.

Victory Ball Proved Usual Success Monday, Over 1,000 Attended

This year's Victory Ball can be put down in the annals of Kingston Post as another success for the American Legion socially and financially. The event run last night at the Municipal Auditorium attracted more than 1,000 patrons who enjoyed the fine program and by their attendance helped toward the welfare fund of the ex-servicemen's club.

Commander Eugene A. Freer was very jubilant over the large turnout at the ball and expressed the appreciation of the Legion to those who attended when he addressed the audience previous to the entertainment program.

The entertainment brought here by the Al Rogers booking agency of New York through Meyer Kaplan, chairman of the entertainment and music committee, was thoroughly enjoyed as manifested by the applause that was tendered by the audience after each act.

Arthur Ball, the singing master of ceremonies, opened the bill with several selections and then presented the rest of the entertainment, which lived up to advance notices, especially the act featuring Adelaide Hall, star of Lew Leslie's Blackbirds, Brown Buddies and the Cotton Club Revue.

Larry and Fedora, who come right from Africa, did several vaudeville numbers and then gave their interpretation of a real Ethiopian dance. This exhibition was done in costume.

Then came Zaza and Countess Maritza. This act furnished the comedy on the program. Zaza with the countess, a stuffed dummy, did vaudeville, rumbas, tangos and other dances popularized by some of the silver screen's most noted actors. Zaza is a personal friend of George Raft, who gained entrance into the cinema world through his dancing. He also paled around with Jimmy Durante, stage and film comedian. This combination fits him for the act he now does.

Next came Adelaide Hall, the star that Kingston had been waiting for. She lived up to advance notices printed about her and rendered the blues numbers and other selections with the same talent and personality that made her the outstanding hit of the big musical shows in which she played.

Adelaide, who recently returned from Hollywood where she appeared in several shorts, told reporters that she is to sail next Tuesday for Paris, France, to play in some of the prominent theatres and clubs of that city. Joe Turner, accompanist for Miss Hall, favored with several piano selections, which were much appreciated.

The closing act was that featuring little Audrey and Wesley Carr. These juvenile tap dancers, who appeared here once before for the Legion, danced their way into the hearts of the audience last night. Assembly dancing was enjoyed until 11 o'clock when the memorial service for deceased war veterans was conducted. It consisted of presenting the colors, sounding taps and the recitation of an appropriate section by the Rev. Clarence E. Brown, chaplain of Kingston Post.

ATTENDS HOMECOMING AT NEW HAMPSHIRE UNIVERSITY.

Durham, N. H., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Among the University of New Hampshire alumni here for the past week-end for their annual homecoming was Hollister Sturges, Jr., of Kingston. Mr. Sturges was one of 62 class agents invited to a banquet here Friday evening in recognition of their efforts making possible the University football stadium now nearing completion. Tomorrow for the dinner was Harry W. Steere, '26, Amesbury, chairman of the alumni fund committee. The guest speaker was Robert Booth, Manchester, N. H., graduate of Dartmouth in 1922, formerly executive secretary of the Alumni Association, and class agent for several years.

Some of the homecoming activities were an "Old Grad" convocation, with Benjamin F. Proulx, '11, of New Bedford, as the speaker; the New Hampshire-Tuffs football game; and an informal dance Saturday evening.

Turkey Salad Supper

CHINESE FEAR NEW MILITARY DRIVE

Chinese were reported fleeing into the international settlement at Shanghai after a Japanese sailor was killed and the Japanese military authorities proclaimed the incident one of great seriousness. Fear was expressed that Japan is seeking to extend its sphere of influence in north China. Wu Teh Chen, mayor of Greater Shanghai, who was to receive a "formal visit" from Japanese officials in connection with the latest incident. (Associated Press Photos)

Stratosphere Hop Hailed Success

not understand that we wanted them to act as an anchor by grabbing the rope. We were then traveling about 11 miles an hour.

Abandoning the attempt to land the balloon without deflating the bag, I let it settle to within two feet of the ground, when I pulled the rip cord, releasing all the gas from the big instantaneously.

There was no vertical jar, although the gondola did roll over to an angle of about 90 degrees. None of the instruments were damaged.

Scientists Anxious
White Lake, S. D., Nov. 12 (AP)—Examination of rarified air in sealed tubes, records of delicate instruments and photographic plates, obtained by stratosphere fliers 13 miles above the earth, was awaited today by the world of science.

Data gathered by Captains Orvil A. Anderson and Albert W. Stevens in their record-breaking stratosphere flight yesterday, were packed for shipment to Washington by officials of the National Geographic Society, co-sponsors of the projects with the Army Air Corps.

The flight started in the natural bowl at Rapid City at 8 a. m. (Central Standard Time) and ended on the farm of John Mathew, 12 miles south of here, at 4:13 p. m. yesterday.

Valuable information about the cosmic ray, long a puzzle to scientists, was sought by the two airmen who reached an unofficial altitude of 73,000 feet, the highest point ever reached by a human.

Studies of sunlight and skylight, observations of sky, sun and earth brightness, studies of wind direction and velocity, checks of barometric altitude scales and study of balloon navigation, were some of the scientific observations recorded by the fliers.

The instruments were reported undamaged when the huge balloon landed without even so much as a bounce.

Great Achievement
The flight probably was one of man's greatest achievements in conquering gravity, but scientists looked for even greater accomplishments as a result of the scientific observations.

Under the skillful piloting, the gondola scarcely bumped as it touched the earth. The airmen opened the rip panel on the balloon and the metal gondola rolled to one side and stopped.

Henry Ubel, who was not 50 feet from the craft when it landed, said the gondola came down "like a feather."

"There wasn't a bounce," he said. "The big gas bag flattened out as they opened the rip panel, and the two captains, apparently 'ticked to death' climbed out, unhurt and not even scratched."

The captains organized volunteers to hold off souvenir seekers and later went to Kimball, 18 miles away, for a night's rest.

Both were elated, but neither would make a prediction as to the possible outcome of their observations.

On Top of the World.
"Boy, did it feel good to be on top of the world," was Captain Anderson's comment.

The fliers said they noted a marked curvature of the earth from the height of 73,000 feet. They said they were impressed by the lack of detail in the earth's surface. Larger towns were visible, but blurred, they reported.

Captain Anderson said he was confident the balloon could have gone at least 5,000 feet higher. He emphasized that his calculation of a 73,000 foot ceiling was subject to check of the "meterograph" which was suspended below the gondola.

"But we had a pretty good barograph," he added.

Check at Philadelphia.
Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP)—The instruments carried by Captains Albert W. Stevens and Orvil A. Anderson in their stratosphere flight will be checked at Philadelphia's Franklin Institute for data in three scientific experiments.

The instruments designed to:
1. Determine the intensity of cosmic rays from several directions.
2. Determine the size of nuclear disintegration produced in lead by cosmic rays.
3. Record on special photographic plates nuclear particles emitted by cosmic ray disintegration in various elements.

4 Men Face Federal Trial in Ship's Fire
New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The federal government today began prosecution of four defendants in an effort to fix the blame for the burning of the Ward Line Morro Castle September 8, last year, when 124 passengers and members of the crew perished off the New Jersey coast.

The defendants were the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company, "The Ward Line," Henry E. Cabaud, its executive vice-president, William F. Warms, who succeeded the master of the ship when the latter died suddenly a few hours before the fire, and Eben S. Abbott chief engineer.

In seven indictments the men and the line were charged with criminal negligence. All have entered pleas of innocence.

Francis W. H. Adams, United States attorney heading a large legal staff, moved for two alternate jurors "inasmuch as this trial will take the better part of a month."

Federal District Judge Murray Huibert granted the motion.

Tokyo May Deliver Stern Note to China

Tokyo, Nov. 12 (AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today the number and frequency of anti-Japanese incidents in Shanghai might compel the Tokyo government to deliver a stern warning to the Chinese nationalist capital of Nanking.

The spokesman asserted, however, that it was absurd to believe Japan was contemplating military action at Shanghai.

He said the Japanese government hoped the series of incidents—the slaying of a Japanese marine, a raid on a Japanese-owned shop and alleged attacks on Japanese women—might be settled quickly through local Shanghai negotiations.

The relatively mild attitude of the foreign office contrasted sharply to Japanese press dispatches from Shanghai, reporting that Japanese naval and diplomatic officials and residents there favored drastic action to terminate the wave of anti-Japanese manifestations.

Punitive Request.

Shanghai, Nov. 12 (AP). New incidents arising to complicate Sino-Japanese relations evoked a formal Japanese request today for punishment of the persons responsible.

Immediate arrest of the demonstrators who smashed a window of a Japanese-owned shop on busy Nanking road last night was asked by a Japanese consular representative in an official call on the deputy commissioner of the international settlement police.

Japanese Consul-General T. Ishii, after calling attention yesterday to the slaying Saturday night of a Japanese marine, Hideo Nakayama, which provoked the tension protested today to the Shanghai mayor over the window-smashing incident, asserting the demonstrators were Chinese.

Ishii announced he would make a similar call on Sterling Fessenden, American chairman of the Shanghai municipal council.

Japanese consular authorities were bolstered by the presence of more than 2,000 marines—a force augmented by 500 newly-landed men.

Ladies' Aid Meeting.

The Ladies' Aid of the Fair Street Reformed Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Ella Eltage 11 Franklin street, on Wednesday, November 13, at 2:30 p. m. instead of at 3 p. m., as previously announced.

Red Cross Work During Past Year

The Red Cross reports that during the past 12 months' period it has answered more calls for help than in any similar period during its history.

Assistance was given to 611,000 victims of 160 different disasters. These included the burning of the Morro Castle off the New Jersey coast, a devastating fire in Nome, Alaska, a trench mouth epidemic in Colorado, dust storms in the middle west and floods and tornadoes in many areas.

There were 50 tornadoes, 35 fires, 29 floods, nine hailstorms, seven windstorms, six typhoons, five epidemics, three mine explosions, two shipwrecks, and two school bus accidents among the disasters which raised need for Red Cross assistance. "The abnormal demands made upon the Red Cross in the last year for emergency work and rehabilitation work on the scenes of disasters cannot fail to impress any one with the necessity of keeping this organization in a strong and vigorous condition," said Chairman Carey T. Grayson, in connection with the report.

The report said that more than $630,000 was spent on disaster relief with slightly more than $500,000 of that amount coming from general Red Cross funds.

MILTON

Milton, Nov. 11.—Voters of the town of Marlborough on election day defeated by 12 votes the proposal to raise annually by taxation the sum of $2,000 for the Sarah H. Hallock Library at Milton and for the Marlborough Library.

Mrs. Katherine McCord entertained the Kilt Club at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Monday afternoon the Junior League met in the Sunday School room of the Methodist Church and organized for the winter months. The following officers were elected: President, Marjorie Stone; vice president, Betty Donaldson; secretary, William Donaldson, Jr.; treasurer, Ralph McCord. A short program followed the business and devotional session.

An Epworth League was organized following the Junior League meeting. Officers elected were: President, Jennie Lawton; first vice president, Norma Rhoades; second vice president, William Lawton; third vice president, Doris Rhoades; fourth vice president, Lila Wood; secretary, Norma Donaldson; treasurer, Henry Brooks. Mrs. Westervelt Clarke is superintendent of both leagues and her assistants are Mrs. Grover Ferguson and Mrs. Katherine McCord.

Election of officers took place at the Milton Grange meeting Monday evening as follows: Master, Kenneth Taber; overseer, William T. Loe; lecturer, Alice Barton; steward, J. Perry Woolsey; assistant steward, Oliver P. Kent; chaplain, Frank C. Wood; treasurer, Charles Bloomer; secretary, Harry Vanderwoort; gatekeeper, Eleanor Young; Ceres, Miriam Sears; Pomona, Helen Kent; Flora, Edna Taber; lady assistant steward, Minna Strohman; trustee, C. J. Hepworth. The following program, arranged by the service and hospitality committee, was presented during the lecture hour: Solo, By the Waters of Minnetonka, Helen Kent; reading, The Story of the Author Thurlow Lieurance, Miriam Sears; Mrs. Edward Young, Sr., spoke on the amendments submitted election day; Miss Lulu Clarke spoke briefly on the library proposition. Hosts and hostesses for the next meeting are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Young, Sr., Eleanor Young and L. D. Marling.

Go to Church Sunday will be observed by the Milton Grange Sunday, November 17. An invitation has been extended the Grangers to attend the Presbyterian Church for the regular morning service at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Elsie Hallock and her corps of workers, Mrs. Grover Ferguson, Mrs. Glenn Clarke, Miss Lulu E. Clarke, Mrs. P. V. Bunker, Mrs. Birdall Taber, Mrs. A. J. Barker, Mrs. Howard Barton, Mrs. A. J. Booth, Miss Margaret Morin have started their work for the Red Cross. The drive ends Thanksgiving Day.

The school board met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Adelaide Wilke and transacted the regular routine of business. The board has decided to send the school to visit all absent pupils in doubtful cases of illness. Further plans were made for a manual training class.

An exhibit of craft work by the Milton group of the Ulster County Home Bureau has been on view the past week in the north window of Edwards meat market in Milton village. The exhibit was arranged by Mrs. Herbert Bell. This Home Bureau project is an extension of adult education, the instruction coming from Cornell University. It is made up chiefly of metal work which consists of copper and nickel silver. Copper is one of the softest metals to work with nickel and silver. Three tools are used in the work, tin snips, file and machinist's hammer. Some printing is being shown and also handmade pottery, although the latter was made by the Milton group. There are not enough local people interested to make this work worthwhile. This is true of all courses. A class is not started unless enough people warrant it. Another article on exhibition attracting a great deal of attention is a beautiful hooked rug. Mrs. Fred Bond is leader of the craft work in Milton, with Mrs. Bell first vice president, assisting with publicity. Mrs. John Maston, second vice president, has charge of the membership campaign now on. This is the first time this type of publicity has been used and it is hoped it will reach more people than have heretofore been interested.

A harvest social has been planned for December 2 by the Ladies' Aid of the Milton M. Church.

Mrs. Edward Young, Sr., was a guest speaker at a meeting of the Home Bureau unit in Walkill Tuesday. She spoke on the Women's Legislative Forum. Mrs. Young has been appointed a member of committee of the New York Milk Control.

The Westminster of the Presbyterian Church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ernest Bell.

Mrs. Edward Young, Sr., was a Jacobson guest of Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt at Hyde Park last week.

Dr. Norton Schwartz and Mrs. Schwartz of New York were recent visitors at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Grace Hewitt. Mrs. Schwartz, formerly Mrs. Laura Brown, and Dr. Schwartz were married in New York October 19, 1925.

The many friends here of Perry V. Bunker were very much pleased because he was selected superintendent of highways again. They have had the opportunity of seeing what he could do and did do in a very satisfactory way. The streets of Milton have never been in as fine shape for traveling over as they are at present. Mr. Bunker has promised to continue his work as he has done in the past two years.

A delegation representing citizens of Milton and Marlborough were in Albany Friday morning before the education department. On fact that they do not want centralization of schools which took place three weeks ago. At this time $17,000 was voted for centralization and only 100 dissent.

It. Now this delegation tells Albany officials that it was all a mistake and that centralization was not wanted in spite of the vote.

Peter J. McManus and Thomas McManus attended the funeral of Cornelius Daly in Poughkeepsie last week.

Miss Margaret Moxin attended the recent K. of C. dance in Columbia Hall in Newburgh.

Principal Ernest and wife and daughter, Ruth, were dinner guests of Mrs. Elsie Hallock Monday evening.

The talk about Jimmy Walker, New York playboy politician, is starting. They say he's going to settle down and go to work.

Father Coughlin says he is going to expose the "Benedict Arnolds" and nominations are now in order.

MILLER MAPS FEDERATION

POULTRY PROGRAM AT MEETING

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 11.—John Miller of Capstone Farm, Kingston, vice chairman of the poultry committee of the N. Y. S. Farm Bureau Federation, presented the federation's poultry program to a large group of poultrymen representing the county farm bureau poultry committees, meeting in the Onondaga Hotel today.

In presenting this program Miller pointed out that the immediate outlook for the poultry industry is bright. He stated that the numbers of hens in the United States are 9 per cent below the 5 year average and that the number of chickens hatched in 1935 was 16 per cent below 1931. He emphasized the fact that stocks of storage eggs are 16 per cent below the 5 year average. He said that normally, one-half of the eggs consumed from August to February come from storage stocks. Shortage of storage stocks will therefore make it necessary, according to Miller, for more than 50 per cent of our fall and winter consumption to come from current production. The committee's vice chairman said that on top of this favorable situation, the tipping of the market and beef prices as a result of reduction programs, has brought about a greater demand for eggs. Miller said that this is the first time in several years that poultrymen have had a favorable situation and he warned poultrymen not to overdo the hatching of chicks next spring.

Birth and Death Rates Lowest Recorded

Albany, Nov. 11. Figures for the first nine months of the year indicate that, barring unexpected developments, the birth and death rates of New York state in 1935 will be the lowest ever experienced and that infant mortality, maternal mortality, and the death rates from typhoid fever, diphtheria, tuberculosis and pneumonia will be exceptionally low, according to Dr. J. Van DePorte of the State Department of Health.

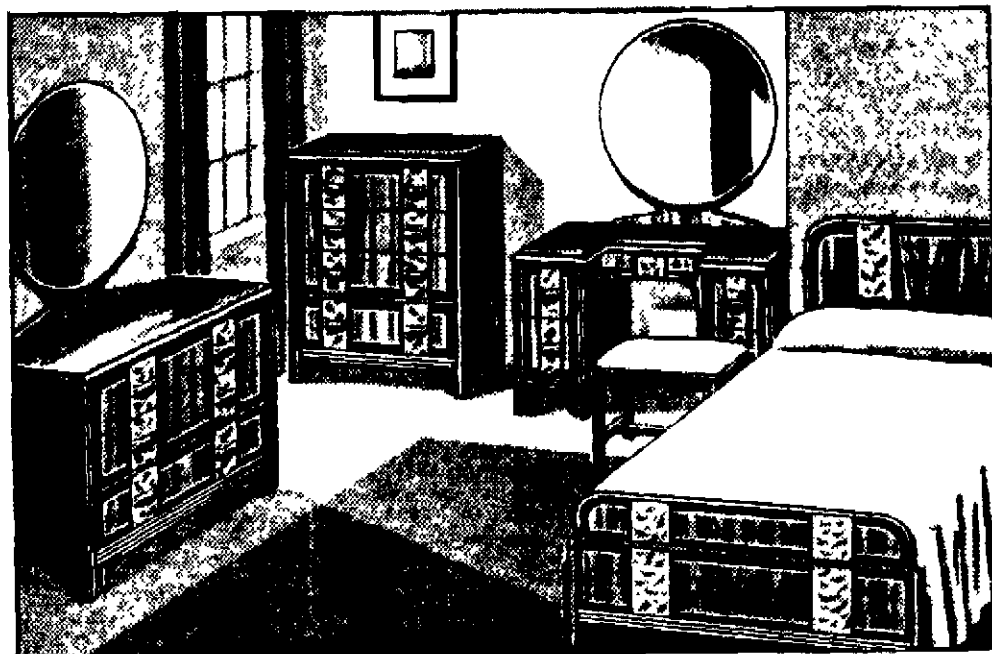

Dr. DePorte announced today that the birth rate for January-September (13.8 per 1,000 population) and the death rate (10.9) were the lowest ever recorded. Infant mortality (40 deaths under one year per 1,000 live births) has also never been lower and maternal mortality (50.1 per 10,000 total births) was the lowest in nearly twenty years. New minimum rates for the period were recorded from typhoid fever, diphtheria, tuberculosis, and pneumonia.

On the other hand, the September death rate from cancer (132.3) was the highest on record, the death rate from diseases of the heart (253.5) has been higher but once, and the rate from diabetes (25.5) twice in the past.

Reported cases of poliomyelitis totaled 1,054 as compared with 53 in September, 1934. The first case of smallpox in the state since May, 1931, was reported in Batavia, having come from another state.

JAPAN'S TEXTILE EXPORTS CONTINUE TO LEAD WORLD

Osaka, Japan (AP)—Having wrested first place among the cotton textile exporting nations from Great Britain in 1934, Japan held that place through the first half of 1935 by an increasing margin.

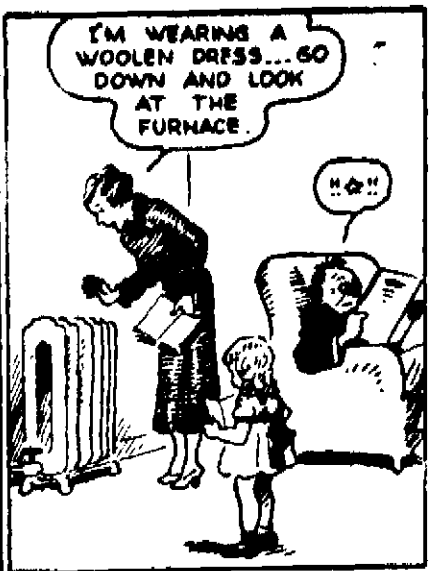

Statistics published by the Export Cotton Yarn and Cloth Traders' Association, with headquarters here, gave Japan's cotton goods exports for the first six months of this year as 1,384,000,000 square yards, as against 1,001,000,000 for Britain.

In all continents except Europe, Japan outdid Britain. To Asia, including British India, Japan's cotton goods exports were $74,000,000 square yards; Britain's $74,000,000. In North and South America and Africa and Oceania, Japan's margin was smaller but marked.

HOW TO CONSERVE COAL

Politics at Random

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington, D. C.)

PLACED end to end, the comments of political leaders on the 1936 election returns get nowhere. To an unusual degree, everyone professes to be pleased, no one admits anything. The inescapable conclusion is that both sides have found something to be encouraged about, and something to think about.

Unquestionably the Republican legislative gains, particularly in New York and New Jersey, have bucked up the G. O. P. leaders tremendously. Whatever anyone may say about the total popular vote, the fact remains that numerous districts which went Democratic last year, went Republican this year. On that basis such drift as there was, manifestly was away from the Democrats.

On the other hand, the great power developed by the Democratic city machines in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania heartens those Democratic doubters who had been fearful that Mr. Roosevelt would be able to count on very little next year from the industrial east. These two aspects of the case generally overshadow the less spectacular returns from Republican Philadelphia, where the voters turned back a determined Democratic drive, and Democratic Kentucky, where a determined Republican drive was similarly defeated.

Even more encouraging to the G. O. P. is the fact that any gain at all was registered over this wide territory. The national election is a year away. If votes are drifting away from the Democrats, a great many more can follow within the next 12 months.

In short, the Republicans now find courage to hope that the tide has turned definitely. That is why they make so much of their 1935 victories.

The Democratic Picture
LOOKING now at the other side of the picture, Democratic observers see in the election returns only one real surprise, and that surprise was favorable to the Democrats.

It arose from the abnormally large majorities rolled up by Democratic city machines, particularly in New York city, northern New Jersey and at some points in Pennsylvania. There were exceptions, notably in Ohio, but it is the big eastern centers of population which have worried the Democrats most.

Tammany, after several rocky years, came back with a vengeance. The only two congressional elections were in New York city, and they resulted in Democratic majorities far greater than those of a year ago. The Hague organization in north Jersey appears to have astonished even its own leaders by its overwhelming strength.

Taking the figures year by year, it is well established that the willingness and ability of such organizations to deliver usually has controlled the electoral votes of the states in which they are located.

Of course the conduct of these big urban machines in national politics usually is unpredictable, but their importance is unquestioned. If they can be kept solidly in line for Mr. Roosevelt in 1936, that will be big news indeed to the Democrats.

Insurgent States To Have Little Voice

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP).—States from which comes the loudest Democratic clamor against President Roosevelt's New Deal policies will have less voice in the party's 1936 national convention than in the last one.

A tabulation today disclosed 21 states will have fewer votes in 1936 than in 1932.

Politicians generally believe President Roosevelt's forces will control the convention, not only to renominate him but to write the platform. But they regarded the changes as significant in view of the possibility of a revolt led by someone such as Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia.

Curiously, Georgia is one of the chief losers in the new allocation of votes. It will have 24 instead of 28. Pennsylvania, where Mayor William M. McElrath, of Pittsburgh, has recently shown signs of cooperating with Talmadge, also will lose four votes.

Other states which will lose strength include Massachusetts, where Governor Ely has been one of the most persistent Democratic critics of the administration; Virginia, where Senator Glass has berated many New Deal moves despite assurances of party loyalty; and Missouri, where former Senator Reed's caustic voice has been raised against almost the entire Roosevelt program.

The Democratic rule giving each state two votes for each senator and member of the House will cut the total votes from 1,164 to 1,100.

The solid south will lose 18 votes under the new allocation. The west will lose 20; the east 12; and the central western states four. Gains were granted in 1932, but losses were deferred.

Events Around The Empire State

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP).—M. C. Fitzgerald, 69, shipping expert and for many years general traffic manager of the General Electric Company, died yesterday at his home here.

A native of Hudson, Mr. Fitzgerald was engaged in commercial, large scale shipping throughout his career. During the World War he served as a dollar-a-year man supervising the handling of stores for the United States forces.

Canton, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP).—Coroner Edward F. Benton yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Daniel Sullivan, Rensselaer Falls Inn proprietor who died after a fall downstairs last Friday. Sullivan fell after a tussle with Oliver Benware, 58, of De Poyter. Benware was booked on a charge of assault pending the inquest.

Ossining, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP).—Work has been started on two sentry watch towers for the protection of the new power house located outside the walls of Sing Sing prison. The towers are located north of the power plant and will house two armed sentries. Sing Sing is solely dependent on the plant for heat and electricity.

WPA Workers Must Be on Relief Rolls

District directors of the Works Progress Administration report that they are receiving many applications for work from persons not on the November relief rolls, which constitutes the latest dead line for employables, under a regulation from Washington, transmitted to all up-state directors and department heads by State Administrator Lester W. Herzog, on November 4.

The order, issued by National Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, and addressed to Mr. Herzog, stated: "You are hereby instructed to accept no person for employment under the works program who was not on the relief rolls prior to November 1, 1935."

The previous relief employment deadline was fixed as of May, 1935. The extension to November 1 has apparently been misunderstood by many of those seeking work under Works Progress Administration to mean that no time dead line now exists. To correct this misunderstanding, several of the district directors have asked Mr. Herzog to explain publicly that except for the ten per cent bonus in employment under executive order and certain specific exemption heretofore granted no person not on relief rolls, as of November 1, 1935, is now eligible for work on Works Progress Administration projects.

Flattery Now Bait Collectors Favor

Albany.—The MII collectors to these parts have thought up a new way to catch you at home.

A direct professional voice calls on the telephone and asks the name of your favorite radio program. A check, says the voice, is being made on the popularity of broadcasts. Will you be listening to that program tonight?

Thrilled by this attention, you promise to listen in at a certain hour. When that time comes, a MII collector is knocking at the front door bell.

PRINCIPALS IN PRE-WEDDING MURDER CASE

Although Washington police were holding two men, they still were seeking others in connection with the murder of Corinne Loring (right), of Mt. Rainier, Md., shortly before she was to be married. The young Washington stenographer's fiancée, Richard Tear (left), and a former suitor, Aubrey Hampton (center), were in custody of police in connection with the killing. ## Armistice Day Service in Rosendale

The Rev. Clarence E. Brown, pastor of the Wurts Street Baptist Church and chaplain of Kingston Post, American Legion, urged that profiteering be taken out of war, during the course of his address at the Armistice Day services held in Rosendale Monday morning. The services were held at the soldiers' monument in Rosendale and were part of the Old Home Week celebration. Mr. Brown voiced much the same thought as did Frederic Snyder in a recent address in Kingston, when he said that the armistice of 17 years ago was in truth but a temporary halting of hostilities, since today the nations are again thinking and acting in terms of war. Of the American Legion, he said that it was "an organization most fitted to know what war means," adding that "it stands first and foremost for peace—a peace founded on the principles of the American Legion and based on a great spirit of Americanism."

The Rifton 4-H Club Fife and Drum Corps led the parade to the monument Monday morning. Supervisor Van Nostrand was chairman of the day and Mrs. Mary L. O'Connor represented the Rosendale Woman's Club. John Doolan and James Doolan, Hudson county, New Jersey, Legionnaires, the former a past commander of the Legion post, were present and were introduced. The Rev. C. V. W. Bedford pronounced the invocation and the benediction was given by the Rev. A. F. Marlier. Eugene Clark sounded taps.

Interest in Cement Works One of the chief features of interest to former residents returning for the Old Home Week celebration at Rosendale was the plant of the Century Cement Co. Many were taken through the plant by Andrew J. Snyder and his assistants. Lloyd Snyder, William Burns and Jack Kelly and were given a ride on the "train" that runs for 1,400 feet into the side of the mountain. The plant is capable of producing 3,000 barrels a day of the new Rosendale cement. This cement, it is stated, is now being used for repairs on the Holland tunnel, where it meets the extraordinary conditions which maintain there due to river silt and polluted waters.

Mr. Snyder has on exhibition at the Auchmoody store a collection of photographs of the old days when Rosendale was the center of the cement industry, before its collapse, due to the advent of Portland cement.

Seven-State Milk Agreement Washington, Nov. 12 (AP).—Peter G. Ten Eyck, New York state commissioner of agriculture, says he hopes the proposed seven-state milk marketing pact will be effective by the beginning of the new year. Ten Eyck, who is chairman of the governor's committee which drew up the pact in an effort to forestall dumping of cheap milk in New York markets, conferred with farm administration experts yesterday. He said the AAA plans to send representatives into New York and other states to determine the sentiment of dairymen toward the pact.

A writer on our larger affairs reminds us that the Philippines cost Uncle Sam twenty million dollars. Well, that's nothing. It costs the government nearly that much now to keep the grass cut and the trees trimmed in Central Park.

Apple Cheese Betty

Does your family love the apple thoroughly roasted? Try this dessert and you will be sure they do.

Cover the bottom of a greased baking dish with brown-candy. Add a generous layer of thinly sliced, tart apples. Sprinkle with sugar, bits of butter, a little cinnamon, and 4 tablespoons of ground cheese. Cover with another layer of buttered apples. Add ½ cup of water. Bake in a covered dish in a moderate oven.

Home Institute HIGH SCHOOL PARTY FUN

MAKE THE PARTY "FUSSY" IF DAUGHTER WISHES

Hear the gay voices at Janet's high-school party! Everybody's very dressed up, and playing quite dizzy games! The food's extremely swanky, the jokes are bubbling up like the balloons, dancing is in full swing!

And that's the way a high-school party ought to be—the sum total of the ideas of both Janet and her mother. When Janet first began to give parties for the high-school crowd, her mother was a trifle flabbergasted at the elaborate ideas of this daughter who, only yesterday, was just a little girl.

Then mother realized that there is no time in your whole life when being grown up is quite so important as when you are right on the threshold of growing up. So she gave in and let the party be a good one, more formal than she ever would have dreamed of planning for the young people.

Janet found away over a menu of for showers or other special parties, canapés and olive canapés, anchovy butter sandwiches, tiny broiled chicken, chicken orzo, and so on. But she didn't want to give a stag party—this and those silly little cakes the booklet will supply clever new ideas. French call petits fours.

When it came to the games, Janet was glad enough to have mother's help in choosing them, and mother, with a perfectly straight face, picked out some very hilarious ones for the "young grown-ups."

"Humming" was a great success. The crowd sent Harold out of the room, and decided on what he was to do when he came back, which was to pull out his handkerchief and pretend to powder his nose. They called him back in, and he had to guess what they wanted him to do. When he combed his hair they hummed "The Piccolino" faintly, when he tied his shoe they kept still, and when he finally drew out his handkerchief they hummed loudly.

At last he guessed, and everybody as when you are right on the threshold of growing up. So she gave in and let the party be a good one, more formal than she ever would have dreamed of planning for the young people.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Millady's winter hat will be trimmed with fur; this is indicated not only by recent fashion reports, but also by the latest showings of mid-winter modes.

Rich fur trimmings take the form of bandings around or across the crown, also edges brims and ornaments front or side in various clever ways. Mink and Persian lamb appear as two very smart trimming furs. Brown on black hats is a new note. Gray, too, is very importantly featured and seen frequently in Persian lamb on a gray or black hat.

Millinery designers have created a large number of small, snug fitting shapes this season. These lead in favor, being most practical and comfortable to wear with the huge collars on winter coats.

The Alpine turban sketched above is fashioned of brown velour. In a high-back model, it is trimmed with mink fur at front and a chic nose veil adds much style interest. The youthful off-the-face model in black felt uses black Persian lamb on the smartly upturned front brim, while a bow of black felt at back completes the trimming detail.

Color in the Kitchen, Please

Just as a few smart accessories "liven up" your dress, so your kitchen will become a different place to work in if you will bring into it more color and cheer with such accessories as these easy-to-make. It's easy to all dressed up, surprise someone with them as a Christmas gift. Right to the point, from after, outline with and lazy days are used for the appropriate designs of fruit and dishes. Notice that you will have a different towel for each day in the week!

In pattern 9675 you will find a transfer pattern of seven motifs, each using 4 ½ x 4 inch color illustrations. Material requirements, list the size of all stitches needed.

To obtain this pattern and all others by exchange or cash, you are referred to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 232 W. 18th Street, New York, N. Y.

Parent-Teacher Associations

Port Ewen
"Toys and Games, what to buy and what not to buy" was the topic for the November meeting of the Port Ewen Parent-Teacher Association held at the schoolhouse on Friday afternoon, November 8.

Mrs. S. P. Tinney, program chairman, lead the parents in a very interesting discussion on toys.

Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, president, presided at the business meeting, which was opened by a salute to the flag. Miss Mary Polhemus read the President's Message, "A Bird's Eye View of Home and School."

Mrs. Philip Goertz was appointed chairman of Better Movies and will submit a list each month of the best pictures for the children to see.

A committee was appointed to purchase Christmas gifts for the pupils: Mrs. Harry Lincoln, Mrs. Philip O'Reilly, Mrs. A. H. Lindgren, Mrs. S. P. Tinney, Mrs. Edward Maine, Mrs. William J. C. Buddenbagen, Mrs. William Schweigel and Mrs. J. C. Reynolds.

The president, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, and four delegates will attend the Ulster County Conference at Saugerties on November 12.

The award of the month went to Room One, Miss DeGraff, and Miss Yaffee's.

A song for Armistice Day, "Tears of Peace," was rendered by the unit at the close of the meeting.

The topic for December will be "Radio Programs."

Turkey Cafeteria Supper.
Wednesday at 5 o'clock the Mizpah Class of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church will serve a turkey cafeteria supper. People wishing to take supper home are requested to bring containers.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

Going Strong.

Hertford, N. C.—"Uncle Joe" White, 55-year-old negro farm hand, is plowing, hoeing, cutting cord wood and harvesting with the best of them on J. L. White's farm. Pretty good, that.

When he was a boy his right leg was amputated to check a malignant growth.

Years later an infection necessitated amputation of his right arm. Still later, his left thumb was lost in a sawmill.

Next a freight train jumped the track and wrecked a building. Joe was found unconscious behind the debris.

Also Going Strong.

New York—Retire? Now Dan Louis, 62, even though the Eighth and Ninth avenue trolley cars were replaced today by buses.

"I started driving a horse car for the Eighth avenue line in 1894," he said. "Three years later the horses went; I learned to run an electric car and never lost a day's work. After 38 years they taught me to run a bus, and I'm not losing a day's work."

All Gone.

Cleveland, Miss.—Very methodical.

Bigger and More Costly

Minimum Hotel and Restaurant Wages

State Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews announces that he has accepted the report of the hotel and restaurant minimum wage board on certain questions raised in hearings on the board's original report last summer and will conduct a hearing on the report at Albany on November 26.

In compliance with requests made at last summer's hearings a small differential has been allowed in wages for waitresses and other service employees, for non-service employees and for resident employees. The differential is scaled according to the population at the last census of the city in which the employee works, cities being graded as follows: Over 200,000; 10,000 to 200,000; less than 10,000. The hourly minimum wages for service employees are 18 cents, 17 cents and 16 cents. For non-service employees: 27 cents, 26 cents and 25 cents. For resident employees: $9.50 per week; $9 and $8.50. A resident employee shall be furnished with full maintenance by her employer during the continuance of her employment. In no cases are there to be any deductions from the minimum wages for any cause whatever. If meals are not provided service and non-service employees, the rate of their minimum wage is increased six cents per hour.

Students Exempted

While the board's report recognizes no class of learners or apprentices, special provision has been made for students in an institution of higher education who are required to acquire experience in hotel or restaurant problems. They are exempted from the minimum wage scales.

On the status of waitresses employed at both table and counter service, which was the third question the commissioner asked the board to decide, the board declined to draw any distinction, holding that an attempt to do so would be impractical.

Among employer representatives on the board was Carl Willmsen of the Palatine hotel, Newburgh. The vote on the adoption of the board was six to three, the employer representatives dissenting.

To make the recommended wages effective, the commissioner must issue a directory order as provided in the minimum wage law following the hearing at Albany.

FIVE DIONNES SIGNED FOR MOVIE ENGAGEMENT

Hollywood, Nov. 12 (AP).—The Dionne quintuplets, signed this week for their first feature-length motion picture, will bear only one command from the director the day they start work.

It will be the French equivalent of "Be yourselves, ladies."

They won't be called upon to act. "The story was designed with two purposes," said Darryl Zanuck, production chief at 20th Century-Fox studio, who placed them under contract. "Naturally, the emphasis will be on the babies, the routine of their daily lives, the gradually-developing differences in their temperaments."

"But almost equally important from the stand-point of plot will be the effect of the children on the community where they were born, and on the doctor who preserved their lives."

Title-character of the picture is Dr. A. R. DaFoe, who performed the medical miracle of keeping them alive.

Zanuck disclosed that inhabitants of Callander, Ontario, Canada, birthplace of the "quints," probably will be "cast" for roles in the picture, which is entitled "The Country Doctor."

Russian Priest Dies

Ventura, Calif., Nov. 12 (AP).—The Rev. Peter I. Popoff, 55, of the Russian Orthodox Church of the Holy Virgin Mary in Los Angeles, died here last night of a fractured skull suffered in an automobile accident. Police reported his automobile crashed into a telegraph pole. The pastor came to Los Angeles last September from Long Island, N. Y., where he was pastor of St. Nicholas Church.

Priestly Spoof

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP).—The Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, archbishop of Baltimore, spoofed Postmaster General Farley today about his "placid" existence. He introduced Farley at a reception here as a man who "leads a life far from the maddest crowd's ignoble strife—a man whose name rarely appears in the daily press and who is subject to almost no criticism."

"Thanks for Health" Play to Sell Seals

Through the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health copies of a play entitled "Thanks for Health" are being distributed throughout the grade schools of the county. The program is being carried on by the National and Local Tuberculosis Associations in observance of the 29th annual Christmas Seal Sale. The play is given during the week preceding Thanksgiving and consists of several parts. "The Story of the Mail," a historic description of the methods used to carry mail from the time 3,000 B. C. to the present day. "The Postmaster's Dream" is a short playlet describing how the Christmas Seal originated and the great work it has done in fighting that dreadful disease tuberculosis. It should be of special interest to the people of Ulster county as the play was written by Miss Grace T. Hallock of Milton, New York, and is being used not only in this county, but all over the nation. Programs of this type give the school children and their parents an opportunity to increase their knowledge of the great fight being waged against tuberculosis and the work of the little Christmas Seal through the county, state and nation.

Synodical President Will Visit St. Paul's

On Sunday, November 24, at 7:30 p. m., the Rev. Ellis B. Burgess, D. D., L. L. D., president of the United Lutheran Synod of New York, will be the guest of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck avenue. The Rev. Paul M. Young, B. D., pastor. At this service Mr. Burgess will receive formally St. Paul's into full membership with the United Lutheran Church in America.

The message of the evening will be given by Dr. Burgess. There will be a special musical program for this occasion.

All are cordially invited to attend.

He's a skilled typist, but Gabriel Heatter, NBC news commentator, writes his scripts in long hand. Or, rather, he prints them by hand. It is a trick he learned while covering the Hauptmann trial when typewriters were barred from the courtroom.

Heating

NEW IMPROVEMENTS in the design of automatic storage water-heaters save you money, not only in the original cost of installation, but also in the cost of gas used.

A simple attachment to your hot water tank, and an inexpensive heat-insulating jacket, are all you need for year-around hot water service. And the cost is no more than you may now be paying for hot water from your kitchen range, furnace or water-heating stove.

As a matter of fact, you may know in advance just what it will cost to have hot water automatically with one of these new units. Because all the gas used must pass through a tiny hole no larger than a pin-head, your bill cannot exceed the specified amount.

May we show you one of these new heaters and give you the exact figures on cost?

On The Radio Day By Day

Time in Eastern Standard.

New York, Nov. 11 (AP)—Almost matter of fact, so it seemed, were those conversations put on the broadcast waves as Capt. Albert W. Stevens and Capt. Orvil A. Anderson in their balloon were going up to the stratosphere and down. Although they went plenty high, a number of yards above 70,000 feet, the stratosphere soars never away from the ground in a communication sense. Their link to old terra firma was the invisible short wave, with the balloon's lower power transmitter—it had only 8 watts—using a channel in the vicinity of 13 meters, while the ground did its talking up around 47 meters. Reception from the balloon was rated as excellent.

Virgin Islands Justly Claim a Thrilling Past
All the Virgin Island groups can boast a thrilling past. They were discovered and named by Columbus on his second voyage in 1493, named a writer in the Chicago Daily News. In the passage between St. Thomas and Puerto Rico, where used to be in wait for passing ships and the entire area teems with memories of those early days.
"Pirate's bay," "Bandit's bay," "Galleon bay," "Cannon bay," and other names recall a violent past. From St. Croix, Sir Walter Raleigh was driven by cannon fire and later by Dutch, the French and the English struggled for possession of the island.

Cecilia Parker, Graduate Of Westerns, Gets Name In 'Who-Likes-Who' Columns

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—in movie "westerns" romance was a blossoms on the plains and ranges. Actually, the place for a young actress to become a "romantic figure" is not on the range, but in a major studio in Hollywood, or to be more exact, in Culver City.

They're Fun

The reason for that is simple: Four of her five years in films have been spent as a heroine of "westerns" and serials. With limited shooting schedules, the players work hard and long to finish a picture in six days. For them, it must be early to bed and early to rise, day in and day out, while a picture is in production.

Cecilia, now under an effective Metro contract which has given her such elegant roles as Garbo's, sister in "The Painted Veil" and the high school girl of "Ah, Wilderness!" will tell you she prefers the comparative ease of a major studio but does not regret the long apprenticeship in "westerns."

"They are fun, and healthful," she says. "Working outdoors all day long can't help but be good for you. The hours? Sun-up to sun-down. Of course, to get on location and be ready to work by daylight I had to get up at 3 or 4 in the morning. By 6:30 a. m. we usually had finished two or three scenes. Sun-down meant we couldn't shoot any more, unless there were interiors to be done at the studio and if there were, we did them."

Rides And Shoots

Of course, with those hours, there wasn't much time for "dates" in the evening—and besides, at big studios the publicity boys watch more closely for "romances" to exploit. Cecilia says, however, she is "really very fond" of both Bill Henry and Eric Linden, but there isn't anything "serious."

If this blonde youngster ever decides her progress as a dramatic actress is too slow—although she declares she wishes to progress slowly—she can step back into "westerns" at any time. Because she does her own riding and knows how to handle a gun, she is in demand as a heroine of the riding-shooting movies, and she draws more pay than the average girl who must have a double for horsemanship exploits. When she began—as George O'Brien's leading lady in her year at Fox before she went to the "quickies"—she learned to stay on a horse.

Her first ambition is to be a dramatic actress. But her second is to be a feminine western star, the like of which the screen has not seen since the late Texas Guinan, was billed as "the feminine W. S. Hart."

Today

Broadway: "Barbary Coast." Ben Hecht and George MacArthur, the two collaborating writers who enjoy bringing realism to the talking screen are jointly responsible for this gigantic history of the San Francisco of yesteryear when men sought gold in that fabulous district and didn't care much how they got it. Into the greedy, dangerous and lawless Gold Coast district comes a New York woman who is in San Francisco to marry a wealthy man. She learns that he has been killed in a roulette game by Louis Chamaille, king pin of the district. She remains to become queen of all the Chamaille enterprises and all goes well until a young man comes to San Francisco with whom she falls in love. There is everything to praise in this Samuel Goldwyn production and little to criticize. Authentic, perfectly photographed, jammed with action and melodrama, this historical picture of the seamy side of Americanism in the making is one of the really great shows of the year. Joel McCrea contributes probably the finest characterization in

HE'S IN THE MOVIES NOW

When France won the struggle she sold the island to the Knights of Malta who sold it to the French in 1733, who sold it to us in 1776.
Above the jewel-like harbor of St. Thomas the picturesque pink and white city stretches on the hillside and to with a sort of apocryphal French town in appearance. But in long years of possession the French never did force their language on the inhabitants and English is generally spoken.

the whole play, but the work of Miriam Hopkins and Edward G. Robinson is equally effective. A don't miss attraction.

Orpheus: "College Scandal." Murder stalks a college campus in one of the oddest crime motives in current movie history. For seemingly no reason, several of the most outstanding men on the campus are found dead, choked to death. Suspicion moves from here to there, and finally rests on an innocent girl. But the killer is brought to justice in a surprise ending. Arline Judge, Kent Taylor, Wendy Barrie, Elliott Nugent and William Frawley are in the cast. Kingston: "Champagne for Breakfast" and "Two Fisted" Hardie Albright, Joan Marsh, Mary Carlisle, Lila Lee and Sidney Toler are featured performers in the opening attraction at the uptown theatre, a study in young romance and early married bliss and misunderstanding. "Two Fisted" is a revival of the well remembered "Is Zat So", a comedy offering about the fight game with Lee Tracy and Roscoe Karns. The show is well sprinkled with laughs, excitement and feminine charm.

Tomorrow

Broadway: "The Return of Peter Grimm." One of the most popular stage attractions in theatre history becomes a fine motion picture in this Broadway film that stars Lionel Barrymore in his most sympathetic characterization. Cast as Peter Grimm, an old fellow who directs and plans the lives of others, it isn't until he is dead that he realizes the error in his judgment. Through his failure on earth, his plans wreck the love of a boy and girl. So Peter Grimm returns, a hazy, unseen presence, and through his efforts, the love he almost smashed blooms brighter than ever. Brilliant photographic treatment plus the capabilities of the players makes this show worth the whole family's time. Helen Mack, Donald Meek and Edward Ellis are featured. "Excuse My Glove" with Jack Doyle, is an added feature of the program.

Orpheus: "After the Dance" and "Live Wire." A new talkie personality seems to be uncovered in George Murphy, a boy with a nice voice and educated feet. He uses both talents in the opening feature with Nancy Carroll, the story of an ex-convict who starts Broadway with his ability but who keeps his identity hidden behind a mask. "Live Wire" is the other attraction, a jumping, stunting melodramatic thriller with the athletic Dick Talmadge in the starring assignment. Kingston: Same.

STUTTERING DUE TO FEAR, DOCTOR SAYS

Specialist Finds Cure for 1,000 Every Year.

New York—Stutterers are being cured at the rate of 1,000 a year in one of America's unique institutions, the "Stutterer's Clinic" in New York City.

Dr. James S. Greene, medical director of the National Hospital for Speech Disorders, destroyed many long-accepted legends about stuttering in a report to the American Medical Association. Stutterers, Doctor Greene found, don't need to learn to talk; all they need is to get rid of some hidden "fear complex."

"Stuttering," Doctor Greene said recently, "is usually caused by a conflict with environment, which results in an anxiety-fear complex. In all cases where there is no mechanical difficulty, psychological treatment is certain to succeed. When there is physical disability, we cure the mechanical trouble and then clear up the complex."

"Stuttering speech," Doctor Greene explained, "is not a speech disorder. It is a nervous maladjustment. All stutterers can talk. So I don't teach them to talk; I teach them to overcome the neuroses which interfere with their expressing themselves."

come the neuroses which interfere with their expressing themselves.

"I say to my patients, 'You can talk as well as I can.' And I prove it to them."

Doctor Greene describes how one person may go through "shocks of oppositional environment" in childhood or adult life, and not have his speech affected, while another apparently normal individual, the "potential stutterer type," comes out stuttering, or with some similar speech disorder.

The clinic creates new environment for the second type, teaches him to "acquire emotional stability," gives him new self assurance, and by composite therapy, including individual and group medical, psychological, psychiatric, social and educational treatments, "returns him to normal social condition."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JACOB

New York, Nov. 12 (AP).—A heavy buying wave swept over the stock market at the start of today's session, but it was of brief duration so far as the general run of equities was concerned.

The ticker tape dropped behind floor transactions in the first half hour as blocks of several thousand shares changed hands at higher prices. Realizing on a broad scale soon succeeded the buying spurge and, with the exception of various rails, communications and specialties, early gains were either cancelled or replaced with losses.

There was no marked change in the domestic or foreign pictures. Cotton was a firm spot among commodities while grains backed and filled in a slim groove. Bonds were fairly steady. Foreign exchanges were slightly mixed.

Shares of Radio Preferred B were given a run for an advance of more than 5 points and Western Union got up 2. Radio Common was unusually active and improvement was shown by Electric & Musical Industries, American Telephone, Louisville & Nashville, Chesapeake & Ohio, Great Northern, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, General Electric and Westinghouse. Stocks of fractionally to 2 or more included U. S. Smelting, American Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, National Distillers, United Aircraft, Chrysler, General Motors, Allied Chemical, Electric Auto-Lite, Case and Sears Roebuck.

The strength of Radio was coincident with expectations that the sale of the company's holdings of Electric & Musical Industries shares to the British concern, now being negotiated, together with funds recently obtained from the disposal of RKO stock, would enable the Radio organization to call its preferred issue.

About The Folks

The Rev. Louis Schmidtko spent the week with his mother and sisters at 211 Washington avenue.

Frank Zelle and Fred Brown of Stone Ridge, who have been hunting deer in Sullivan county, came home Saturday night with two nice bucks.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rignall of 110 Fairview avenue are the proud parents of a son, Raymond, Jr., born on Armistice Day at the Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Wells, Mr. and Mrs. George Lawrence, Mrs. Neale Krom, Mrs. Fred Elliott and Fletcher Wells attended the funeral of Mrs. Wells' brother, Calvin Lawrence, at Wappingers Falls.

Mrs. D. N. Secore of 171 Greenhill avenue left Sunday morning on a trip to Cedartown, Ga., where she will visit the Ethel Harpat Home for Mountain Children. On her return trip Mrs. Secore will attend the dedication service of Pfeiffer Junior College at Melsenheimer, N. C. The buildings at Ethel Harpat Home and at Melsenheimer are the gifts of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pfeiffer of New York city.

SOUTH RONDOUT

South Rondout, Nov. 12.—The Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the M. E. Church will meet this evening at the home of Miss Anna Cole.

Prayer meeting will be held in the M. E. Church on Thursday evening. The word for this week will be "mercy" and a cordial invitation is extended to all. Please bring your Bibles with you.

Doris and Stanley Chandler rendered a duet with piano and violin entitled "Abide With Me," in a most pleasing manner at the evening service in the M. E. Church on Sunday.

Mrs. Peter Rites and daughters, Gertrude and Betty, and Kenneth MacNeil of Kingston, and Mrs. John Mulligan of Ravens, spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Stoultz and family.

Miss Sarah Becker spent a day recently in Rifton, the guest of Mrs. Frank Osterhout.

A number of the younger set of the village attended the Victory Ball in Kingston on Monday night.

A Widow's Home

Emily Post's "Etiquette" says: "A widow no less than a married woman should always continue to use her husband's Christian name, or his name and another initial, engraved on her cards. She is Mrs. John Sumner Ticker-Smith, but she is never Mrs. Sarah Smith; at least, not anywhere in good society. In business and legal matters a woman is necessarily addressed by her own Christian name, because she uses it in her signature. But she should never address an acquaintance, except from a bank or a lawyer's office, 'Mrs. Sarah Smith.' As to the signature, Mrs. Post declares 'a married woman should always sign a letter to a friend, a bank, business firm, etc., with her baptismal name, and add, in parentheses, her married name.'"

Saugerties Boy State Leadership Winner

Wesley Smith, Saugerties, has been chosen as New York state's 4-H leadership winner for 1935. This entitles him to compete in the national 4-H leadership contest and to attend the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago December 1 to 5.

The leadership award is made to 4-H members who have outstanding records in their 4-H projects and as officers and local leaders of 4-H clubs.

Smith became a 4-H member in 1931 and during his five years of membership has completed 13 projects. His best work has been in poultry and beekeeping. He has been the local leader of the 4-H Shop Club of Saugerties for three years, assisting other 4-H members with their work.

During 1935 he won special recognition in the poultry project by having the highest individual hen in the New York state 4-H laying test. He also exhibited the first prize brown eggs at the New York State Fair. During the past three years his birds have won many awards at the county and state fairs. At the recent Ulster County Fair his Rhode Island Red hen and cock competing with adult breeders won the sweepstakes award for the best old pair in the show.

Notable Beekeeping Record

The record of his achievements in beekeeping is also outstanding. He owns fourteen colonies of purebred Italian bees. During 1935 they produced 550 pounds of honey from which he chose exhibits for the State Fair. His liquid honey received a perfect score and the first award while the comb honey placed third.

He has not only been a leader in his own community and club but in the county as well. He has been a speaker over radio station WGY, before the Kingston Kiwanis Club, Saugerties Lions Club, and numerous county-wide 4-H gatherings. He has served on the county 4-H program building committee being chairman of the committee for preparation of the program in agriculture at the present time. He has repeatedly served as cabin leader at the county 4-H Club camps.

The Mt. Marion and Churchland communities are proud of the success of one of their young people and are holding a dinner to earn enough to cover the expense of Smith's trip to Chicago. The dinner will be held Thursday, November 21, at the Mt. Marion Church Hall. Serving will start at 5:30 p. m. with the 4-H girls waiting on tables. Mrs. John Dederick is chairman of the committee in charge of the dinner.

Wherever one goes in China he sees evidence that China is an old, very old country. In the heart of Hangchow there are tombs and memorials to ancient that the weather of the centuries has worn the stone statues and carvings to smooth surfaces. In the country are disintegrating walls enclosing what were once rich estates and imposing buildings, the ruins of which are overgrown with semi-tropical jungle.

The "coffin houses" along the paths in the hills, where repose the remains of the departed awaiting an auspicious day for burial, are in better condition than are houses of the living. These mausoleums, writes Mason Warner in the Chicago Tribune, are rows of 12 to 20 attached buildings, 10 to 12 feet high, each having one room, with space for either one or two coffins. Sometimes the burial of husband or wife is postponed until the death of the survivor, and that occasions the waiting of one for the other in the coffin house.

For the peace of the departed soul and the good luck of the surviving members of the family, a day when all the elements of nature are in harmony in relation to the departed one must be chosen by a learned geomancer for interment in the earth. That is always difficult, for what would be a lucky day for one son might bring disaster for a corpse to wait five, ten, or twenty years for burial. Very rich families have been known to wait fifty years for the right day.

Lightness and Strength Make Aluminum Popular

Aluminum is used wherever a combination of lightness and strength is desired. The pure metal is highly resistant with various corrosive substances, yet in actual practice it resists corrosion very much better than the theoretically more resistant iron.

The reason for this, writes Dr. Thomas M. Beck in the Chicago Tribune, is that aluminum on exposure to the atmosphere forms a microscopic thin, tough, air-tight coating of aluminum rust which gives the underlying metal perfect protection against corrosion.

Iron, on the other hand, forms a brittle, porous rust that flakes off and exposes more metal.

Along with the advantage of lightness and rust resistance, pure aluminum has the disadvantage of being relatively soft. For a long time this limited its use to the manufacture of kitchen utensils, sheet aluminum, and similar uses in which it was not subjected to very great strains.

Now, there have been developed some highly successful aluminum alloys, in which the metal has a strength approaching that of steel, with no sacrifice of lightness. Oddly enough, in the course of some of the latest work of these alloys the aluminum, in gaining strength, loses much of its resistance to corrosion.

This fault, however, can easily be remedied by giving the alloy a thin coating of the pure metal.

It is said that in the anti-noise campaign in New York the city administration is going to exempt the Federal workers in Central Park to short crop with rubber dais.

Peterson-Auchmoody

George R. Peterson and Miss Myrtle F. Auchmoody of Kingston, were married at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Russell S. Gaenzle, pastor of the church. During the ceremony Milton Schiebel sang "I Love You Truly," and "O Promise Me." Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas E. Kluepfel. Following the ceremony an Italian spaghetti dinner was served at 74 Henry street, guests being members of the families.

Eselby-Edwards

Saturday afternoon, November 9, at 4 o'clock, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Holy Trinity Church, New York city, when Margaret V. Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Edwards, was united in marriage to William F. Eselby, son of Mrs. Ernest Hinkley of Binnewater, N. Y., by the Rev. Eugene Duggan, former assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Church, this city. They were attended by Miss Marion E. Coughlin of New York city and John F. Edwards, a brother of the bride.

Sorosis

Sorosis met with Mrs. Cora Drake on Monday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Theron Culver, the vice president presided. Mrs. Lucius Doty read the paper entitled, "The House of Stuart (1603-1660)" in which period James I and Charles I reigned. During the former's reign the American Colony at Jamestown was founded. England experienced a civil war, the execution of a king and the setting up of a short-lived republic. During Charles I's reign many religious and social reforms were attempted. Upon his death the kingdom decade followed when Oliver Cromwell became Lord Protector of England. Roll call was "English Inns." Sorosis will meet at the home of Mrs. Jessie S. Brown on Monday, November 18.

Munson-Nave

On Sunday, November 10, at 2:30 o'clock, a very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Port Ewen Reformed Church, uniting in marriage Miss Dorothy Margaret Nave, only daughter of Mrs. John C. Nave and the late John C. Nave, and Ralston Munson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Munson, both of Port Ewen. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Philip Goertz. The bride, given in marriage by Harry Shaw of Jamaica, L. I., was dressed in white pebble crepe with a small train and wore a long maline net veil, tulle style, with triple row veil. She carried white chrysanthemums, tied with white spray ribbon. The maid of honor, Miss Helen Deliner, was dressed in red.

Smart Dogs

In Chicago two scientists made an intelligence test of a dog, using a device called psycho-balometer. It proved, they said, that the dog had as much sense as a twelve-year-old child. That will be an startling announcement to dog lovers. Most of them will declare the machine ought to have shown that the dog has more sense than most human beings of any age. A better comparative demonstration would prove that (1) a dog will not eat when he is too hungry. (2) A dog will relax and rest when he has nothing to do. (3) A dog is true to his instincts and profits by his experience. He doesn't do a thing that gets him into trouble the first time. In most of these tests the average human being would make a poor showing.—Ewer's News

Local Death Record

Funeral services of Mrs. Helen E. Parslow of 28 Flatbush avenue, were held this morning from her late home at 9 a. m. and from St. Peter's Church at 9:30 a. m. where a high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. John P. Neumann, pastor. Father Neumann also visited the home Monday afternoon to recite the rosary. During the offertory, William Raible sang "Ave Maria." The floral pieces and spiritual tributes in the form of Mass cards were numerous. The bearers were Clifford Weber, John Parslow, Henry Dittus, Arthur Dittus, Wilson Boice and Clarence Uhl, all relatives of the deceased. Interment was in Montrose Cemetery.

Tomorrow is Somebody's BIRTHDAY

What's the date today....
say...tomorrow...why...tomorrow is somebody's birthday!

Someone you love and hold dear. Mother, dad, sister, brother. An old friend. A teacher, a little boy or girl, a baby.
Have you haven't forgotten...

Send a Birthday Present!

Maybe it isn't tomorrow, maybe it's the day after, next week, or even from now. Maybe it was yesterday... but even so, it's not too late to send a birthday present.

Send a birthday present to a nephew or niece away at school. They are, well, just the greatest person in all the world. Send them a piece of your heart in a package and write that boy or girl on the label. Send a birthday present.

Send a birthday present to your sweetheart. Make it a personal and creative. But don't let it out yourself. Choose something that's just what he or she needs. Then, send it with your love.

Send a birthday present to a friend. A birthday is a special day. Give him a smile when you buy him a birthday cake.
your paper, a box of candy, a bunch of flowers. He will grow up his birthday with you.

Send a birthday present to a friend you used to play with with as a child, the boy or girl who blew out the candles on your own birthday cake in childhood. Friendship lasts; don't lose them. Keep them. Send them a present.

The night we took such good care of you. You won't have many more birthdays. Don't wait until it's too late.
You haven't forgotten. Don't wait until it's too late.
Send a birthday present.

Send a birthday present. There's no one more important than everyone sends birthday presents. That's habit. But it shows thoughtfulness, consideration — and love. It's the most wonderful thing you can do. It goes back. Love, happiness, friendship, affection. It really counts.

Send a birthday present. You don't have to do it every year. Send a present!

Send a birthday present. Don't send money. Send something you know that person will like best. It really doesn't matter how how much it costs. A present that cost one dollar — a present that you picked out yourself — is better than a new ten dollar bill. Send because you have said, "There! That is just what he wants!"

Chip in and help pay your boss a birthday present. You know the grief he's had steering the business through the rough winter, trying to meet the payroll, to keep up salaries. Your troubles have been his troubles. Show him you know — with a birthday present!

Send a birthday present to the man you do business with, the customer whose trade has meant so much to you. He won't misunderstand.
Send a present to the man who sells you what you need.

Send a birthday present. It doesn't matter what you send. Flowers, a toy, your picture, a pipe, a rug, a clock, perfume, a puppy, a pair of socks — send anything!

Send it! It's a birthday present — and it's from you.

Undefeated New York Jewels To Play Kingston Wednesday

The New York Jewels, who look like the goods to cop the American Basketball League title this season will come to Kingston Wednesday with four straight games to their credit and try to make it five in a row by shelling Frank Morgenweck's Citrus Service brigade.

As things stand, it looks good for the Jewels tomorrow night. So far Kingston has been unable to get going. They lost to the New Yorkers once, also to the SPHAS of Philadelphia and the Jersey Reds.

Regardless of their setbacks, Manager Morgenweck hopes to see his club get onto the winning road. He has been drilling his players for Wednesday's battle and even made one move to strengthen the quintet. Jim Lennon was weak at center in the games dropped by Kingston, so Morgenweck signed Tiny Hearn, veteran center.

Pop expects that the giant pivot man, 6 feet 9 and weighing about 250 pounds, will add that much needed factor to his club—the tap. Possession is the best defense Morgenweck contends. If my club can only get that ball he says on the tap we'll be sitting pretty.

Of course, it must be considered that Kingston has not hit its stride either. Frank Shimek, the star of last year's state league club, is weak on field goals this fall. This is a big disadvantage, but Morgenweck thinks a couple accurate shots will break the jinx and his cagers will be on to victory in the American race.

Tomorrow Kingston will risk its chances against some of the best in basketball—Matty Bogorch, Rip Gerson, Alie Shuckmann, Mac Kinsbrunner, Max Ponnack, Sid Bernstein and Honey Russell.

Morgenweck probably will start Stanton and Spahn as forwards, Hearn center, Husta and Shimek guards. Horse Meyers and Hank Kurtyka will be ready for action whenever Pop signals for them to take off their wraps.

Starting time of the game is 8:45. At 7:45 there will be a preliminary between the Kendalls and Saugerties A. C.

34 Deaths So Far This Year from Football

New York, Nov. 12 (AP).—Football has taken more lives than usual this year.

Five deaths last week brought the total on the Associated Press list to 34, the highest since 1931. Forty-nine fatalities that year resulted in a revision of the rules.

Deaths this year already exceed by nearly 40 per cent the toll of 24 for the entire 1934 season. The latest victims were two sandlot players and one each from college, high school and club rosters.

Sandlot and high school football has accounted for the entire increase over last year's toll.

A composite of records compiled by the Associated Press and Floyd H. Eastwood of New York University, who prepares death and injury statistics for the American Football Coaches Association and the rules committee of the N. C. A. A., shows that 13 school boys and four sandlot players died last year. The totals so far this season are 19 and 9, respectively.

Three fatalities each have been chalked up against college and club gridirons, trailing the 1934 total by one in each instance.

Eleven deaths have been reported from the east, 10 from the mid-west, four each from the south and the far west, three from the southwest and one each from Canada and Hawaii.

Pro. Golfers Seek Winter's Pot of Gold

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 12 (AP).—The quest for the winter's golden golf opened here today as the professional shot-makers competed in 18 holes of best ball play—the initial event of the mid-south open tournament.

It was the first time the professionals tried out the new No. 2 course in tournament play. Greene has supplanted the traditional sand-putting surfaces of the course, site of next fall's P. G. A. championship.

Another 18 holes of best ball play will be held tomorrow, the winning pair of the 36-hole competition to draw $400, the runners-up, $200.

The defending titleholders are Tommy Armour, of Chicago, and Bobby Cruickshank, of Richmond, Va.

Three former holders of the national open title—Armour, Willie MacFarlane and Billy Burke—were in the field of more than 100.

Cornell-Rescue Basketball Team

The Cornell-Rescue Social Club has recently organized a basketball team under the management of "Sonny" Woods and captained by "Johnny" Zeek, former Kingston High School and D. C. League star.

The team is comprised of members of the C. & R. Club only. Practice sessions are now under way and the freshmen expect to open their season by November 25.

Manager Woods says his boys will duplicate the successful season enjoyed by the club's football team this past summer. The C. & R. Club's schedule calls for mostly out-of-town games, but there are a few open dates for games with local teams.

CANADIAN PLAY NEW YORK RANGERS TONIGHT

New York, Nov. 12 (AP).—The Montreal Canadiens show their wares for the first time in the 1935 National Hockey League season against the New York Rangers in Montreal tonight.

The game is the only one scheduled in the league tonight. On Thursday the Rangers meet Toronto and Chicago plays Detroit.

Cochran Holds First Place in Tournament

Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP).—Bill feeling that fared between Allen Hall of St. Louis, and Walker Cochran of San Francisco, over a disputed point in the world's three-cushion billiard championship tournament, had passed off today as the 45-game round robin schedule reached the halfway mark.

Cochran held undisputed possession on first place by virtue of his fourth straight victory last night, when he defeated Hall amid near riotous scenes, 50 to 41, in 47 innings.

Hall, trailing 40 to 42, thought he had made point No. 41, but the referee, Charles McElligot of Chicago, called it a "miss."

The instant the ruling was made, Cochran jumped out of his chair shouting, "He missed it a mile." Hall, protesting vigorously, assumed a fighting attitude, as if he were going to let go with his left at the referee and swing at Cochran with the right. Cowboy Charley Weston, the scorer, who said he believed the referee was wrong was up on his feet and pulled them apart.

Hall made only one after the questionable decision, while Cochran clicked them off in great strokes in his final shots. It was a crucial match for Hall. A victory would have put him in a strategic position, to win or tie for the championship.

After the Hall-Cochran flare-up, Arthur Thurnblad, of Chicago, handed the Japanese entry, Kinrey Matsuyama, his fifth straight defeat, 50 to 34 in 42 innings, and not an argument marred the scene.

With Rival Grid Coaches Officiating, "Big Ten" Game Of '94 Ended In Riot

By ROBERT WALTON

Madison, Wis. (AP).—All a 1935 football coach has to do is turn out a winning team—quite an assignment, perhaps—but back in 1894 he sometimes had to fill in as referee and umpire as well.

However, it didn't prove successful, and the only such game on record in annals of the University of Wisconsin took place that year between the Badgers and Purdue at Lafayette, Ind. And, it never was finished.

Some say it ended in a general uproar with the score tied at six-all, but here at Wisconsin they say Purdue won, 1 to 0—which in modern football would be the point after touchdown without the touchdown.

Cochran held undisputed possession on first place by virtue of his fourth straight victory last night, when he defeated Hall amid near riotous scenes, 50 to 41, in 47 innings.

As there has been no advance agreement on officials, it was finally decided to let the two coaches, Balliett of Purdue, and Stickney of Wisconsin, act as referee and umpire, respectively, changing duties at the half.

Near the end of the first half, in which play had been close and bitterly fought, Balliett disqualified the Wisconsin captain, "Tule" Lyman, for alleged slugging.

Stickney led his team from the field and thus allowed Purdue to win by default. More important to Wisconsin than defeat, was the loss of the "princely" guarantee of $250.

Other early games between the Badgers and Wisconsin resulted in fireworks, too—and a lot of laughs.

The series began in 1892 and Purdue was victorious, 32 to 4. The next year Wisconsin had its first full-time coach and won, 35 to 30, after the crowd had had at least one big laugh and engaged in the arguments that followed every decision of the referee.

The laugh came when Purdue's center, a 300-pound man-mountain known as "Babe" Turner, suffered the embarrassment of seeing his pants ripped asunder. Both teams gathered around him while repairs were made with a penknife and a couple of shoestrings.

Student Referee Is "Armed"

The referee was Joe Turner, a Wisconsin senior law student, and his costume would be good for a masquerade today. He appeared in a pale tan topcoat, "iron" hat and light spats—carrying a cane.

The cane was the smartest accessory he had, for almost every decision was argued and at times it appeared he would have to use it—not to enforce his rulings—but as a defense weapon.

Since then Purdue and Wisconsin have renewed their rivalry many times with Wisconsin leading 9 to 7 in victories scored up to this year's Badger Homecoming clash. Three games have ended in ties.

Grand Finale of the Horse Show Tonight

New York, Nov. 12 (AP).—Officers from six nations take over Madison Square Garden's arena tonight to decide team supremacy over the jumps in the grand finale of the National Horse Show.

With each nation entering three horses in the individual trophy race last night, five of them turned in at least one perfect performance, while Chile and the Irish Free State had three faultless exhibitions each.

Only France, winner of the team title last year and victorious in the Bowman Challenge Cup, failed, but the tri-color officers withheld their equine aces for tonight.

In the end, it was the United States army team, with only two perfect rides, which won the trophy. Lieut. Raymond W. Curtis sent the lightly regarded bay gelding, Don, to the top after two jump-offs.

The Canadian combination of Captain C. C. Mann and Percy McNeil offered stubborn opposition. The U. S. victory retired the trophy, which had also been won in 1931 and 1932 by Uncle Sam's representatives.

With Gold Digger from Louis Kaiser's Terre Haute farm of Bethlehem, Conn., already wearing the five-galleted saddle horse crown and Charles T. Fisher's George Gwynn of Lexington, Ky., standing at the head of the junior five-galleted division, the remainder of the class champions were up for decision today.

Fake Tipster Service Being Investigated

Ballston Spa, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP).—New York state prepared to wind up one phase of its drive against race track racketeers today as a Saratoga county grand jury reconvened behind closed doors to hear testimony regarding fake tipster services.

The hearing was adjourned last Friday when it was announced that George H. Bull, president of the Saratoga Racing Association, had been asked to appear today. Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., and William A. Morris, secretary-treasurer of the Saratoga Association, appeared before the jurors at the last meeting.

Thomas F. Ward, Jr., special investigator of the state's anti-racket bureau, and Sharon J. Mauba, special assistant attorney general, are handling the fake tipster service investigation.

Last week Ward announced that possibly 40 indictments might be returned this week. Mauba promised prompt action against those indicted.

SPORT SLANTS

The fair-sized crowd which had witnessed the 32 to 0 drubbing Louisiana State administered to Chick Meehan's Manhattan College Kelly-green eleven was pursuing its way through the exits. A wag was overheard to remark that Chunky Chick's lads were wearing the proper colors, that they were really "greenies."

There was a lot of truth in that statement. The Manhattan eleven is generously supplied with sophomore material.

The inexperienced youngsters in the line have presented a remarkable well-knit front wall, however. None of the teams they have faced have been able to make much headway through the line. The games Manhattan lost this year can be charged to the inability of the sophomore backs to protect their territory against passes. Louisiana State and North Carolina State beat the Jaspers with long, well-placed passes.

Expect Improvement

The "greenies" are absorbing a lot of experience and next season Chick Meehan will lead them into a real place in the gridiron sun. Facts that in your hat.

Meehan insists on a team well coached in fundamentals. But at the same time no coach in this broad land better appreciates the value of showmanship. His crisp, precise military huddle is a thing of beauty as well as effectiveness. He sends his football players out to battle the enemy in gold silk pants, bright green jerseys and white helmets. He even has a toy cannon to boom a resounding salute whenever Manhattan puts the ball over for a score.

The process of building at Manhattan has been slow, hard work because Meehan is not blessed with much robust talent. No wealthy alumni pour the pick of the prep schools into his lap. With the materials at hand Meehan has done his building on a solid foundation and Manhattan is on the threshold of reaping the reward for its perseverance.

Meehan showed what he could do at New York University, where with a wealth of material he fashioned grid teams second to none. Before that he won his spurs as a successful coach at his alma mater, Syracuse. But Meehan confesses that he is getting a greater kick out of seeing his Manhattan "greenies" pick up needed experience and develop into a first rate ball club than ever before in his career as a coach.

"Greenies" Tied Crusaders

The outstanding achievement of this year's green eleven is that 13-13 tie against its traditional rival—Holy Cross. Holy Cross invaded Ebbets Field proudly flaunting an undefeated, untied and undefeated record which included a victory over Harvard. At the end of the third period, they were leading, 13 to 0, apparently well on their merry way to preserve their record of "uns."

Early in the fourth period Meehan sent in Jimmy Whalen, a Junior back, and before Holy Cross realized what had happened green lightning struck twice and Manhattan had evened up the score. Whalen collected a punt on his own 18-yard line and after a bit of hesitation romped through the entire Crusader team for a score.

Winners in "Y" Ping Pong Tourney

Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. four matches were played in the "Y" ping pong tournament. Bob Evory and Andy Dykes winning second round matches and Bob Evory and Harry Friedman winning quarter final matches.

In the second round matches, Bob Evory eliminated Bob Cullum from the tourney, winning by scores of 24-22 and 22-20. Andy Dykes won over Kimbol Pirie by scores of 21-15 and 21-16, eliminating him from the tournament.

Later in the evening, Evory played Hesse Kantrowitz in a quarter-final round match and won by scores of 21-13, 20-22 and 22-20. Harry Friedman also played a quarter-final match, playing and defeating Towse Rifenbary by scores of 21-10 and 21-15. By these matches Kantrowitz and Rifenbary were eliminated from the tournament and Evory and Friedman advanced into the semi-final.

The quarter-final matches must be played by Wednesday and the semi-final by Friday night.

British Plaintiffs Win Shares Case

London, Nov. 12 (AP)—Justice Atkinson of the kings bench division today awarded judgments totalling £39,500 (about $197,000) and interest to the British plaintiffs in the long drawn out Chrysler Motors shares case.

Included in the award was £2,500 and interest for Arnold De La Puer against Walter P. Chrysler, the American automobile magnate, and his associates, Stephen D. Briggs, Edward E. Hutchinson, Joseph Fields, and the Chrysler Corporation.

There was also a judgment of £36,000 and interest against the same defendants on behalf of the Suffolk Investment Company.

Justice Atkinson also gave a judgment in favor of Charles Lomax (against whom the plaintiffs, after the case began, said they did not ask judgment) but did not award any costs.

Atkinson stated there was not the slightest foundation for the counter-charge of fraud which the defendants had brought De La Puer.

Today's award of damages came in the second day of Justice Atkinson's deliverance judgment. Yesterday he said he was satisfied that the actionable conspiracy was limited to Hutchinson, Briggs, and Fields who, he said, threatened the plaintiffs that their sales franchise with the Chrysler Company would be cancelled.

Atkinson ruled that Chrysler was a party to the conspiracy of January and February, 1928, but not to the alleged fraudulent misrepresentations by Hutchinson and Fields in November and December, 1927.

Kingsford-Smith, Feared Lost At Sea, Once Disappeared Among Cannibals

Rangoon, Burma, Nov. 12 (AP)—Crews of the planes seeking Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith and his pilot, Tom Pethybridge, lost on an England-Australia flight, reported today that the search was "virtually hopeless."

Two Royal Air Force flying boats arrived here from Singapore, Straits Settlements, where the Australian pilots were due last Friday, after a fruitless search over a wide area off the coast and over the Bay of Bengal.

Officials announced the hunt would continue.

Story Not New By GEORGE TUCKER

New York (AP)—The heavy silence which closed around Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith after he was reported seen over the stormy, shark-infested Bay of Bengal, is not new to followers of the Australian ace.

Six years ago he was lost and reported dead. Pursuing one of his thrilling Britain-to-Australia dashes, the flier, with Charles Elm and two companions, was forced down by heavy storms in one of the wildest and most inaccessible regions along the Australian coast.

Heard Death Announced
There for 12 days the party could do nothing but follow by radio the progress of the search being made for them. They were unable to assist because their sending apparatus was dead: A macabre incident of the experience was learning, by radio, that they were in a cannibal country.

As the searching parties abandoned hope the ace and his companions—like Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn (who sneaked home to hear their own funeral services)—sat in the jungle and heard their own deaths announced to an appalled world. But finally one of the many searching planes sighted them and carried them back to civilization.

It was his war experience on the Gallipoli and western fronts which gave the hero his insatiable appetite for adventure. After the armistice, he left the royal air force and immediately launched into a career that carried through 17 years of record breaking adventure.

Fame Rivals Lindy's
He was the first man to fly the Tasman sea, he circled the globe, made innumerable dashes from Britain to Australia, nearly lost his life

Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian air pioneer whose disappearance in a storm over the Bay of Bengal started an intensive search. The map charts some of his most important flights.

In an attempt to fly from Ireland to New York, was knighted by King George and given the title of air-commodore.

The tall, homely, grinning Australian was born 38 years ago. His famous ship, the Southern Cross, in which he accomplished the first of his major feats, now takes its place in the popular imagination with Lindbergh's famous Spirit of St. Louis.

It was in the battered Southern Cross that Smith, with Elm, an old war buddy, successfully performed the then unheard of feat of flying from California to Australia, a distance of 7,300 miles, in three hops. The first carried to Honolulu, the second and longest to the Fiji Islands, and the third on to Brisbane, Australia.

Smith's globe-circling feat was no speed dash, but a two-year project into which went $9,000 miles of flying. He blazed new air trails across mountain, desert and sea, establishing many records.

Asked once what records he would rather break, Smith grinned and replied: "Why, my own, of course!"
